A CLOSER LOOK

3rd Belmont

Folklore

She had a strong string of works leading up to the Matron and she certainly ran to them, drawing off to win by the length of the stretch; 5/2 against that field, though, was one thing; she's 5/2 on the ML here despite never having tried this distance, and coming off a Beyer top; in the Matron, it didn't hurt that race favorite India banged her head hard on the gate in a pre-start mishap, and was eventually eased; she's stuck inside here, which may force Prado's hand a bit, and since this is her 1st try past 7f it's anyone's guess if she'll be able to rate at this distance; she can certainly win, of course, but at an underlaid price we'll try to beat her, at least on top.

Original Spin

She took full advantage of a perfect trip from jockey Jesse Campbell behind a quick, contested pace in the Arlington Lassie and that was the difference; no surprise she's showing ability early on, as she's a full sister to Humor At Last, who won a couple of stakes races at 2; she's perfectly drawn here and figures to again enjoy ideal position, this time under Bailey; barn has a 23% win percentage and a plus ROI with 1st-Lasix users over the last 5 years.

Along the Sea

Adds blinkers, though that's not a strong angle for this barn; she has been chasing today's favorites in her last couple but hasn't been able to catch up; Beyers are a little light compared to the top contenders; she's the longest shot in the field on the ML, though that may say more about the depth of this group than it does about her.

Diamond Omi

Very game score in the Oak Leaf, but the knock is that the race didn't come up all that quick in terms of Beyers; it was her best figure to date, though, and she has worked well since; if she can continue to improve she might be able to last for a share but if this field stays intact the pace should be quick, and she does her best racing on or near the lead.

Knights Templar

That latest Beyer certainly puts her in the hunt but it has to be viewed skeptically, since she was loose on the lead through modest fractions; to get a line on the field she beat the best last-out dirt Beyer in the field was a 61, and the final time was only a little more than a second faster than $12,500 claimers went earlier on the card; in short, given the expected race flow in here, she figures to have trouble lasting.

Proven over the track, a plus, and she comes off a sharp score in the Frizette; granted it was over a sloppy track, but the fact that she was able to rate and make one run is important, since she'll need to do the same here given the expected pace scenario; dam's 2 other winners both best as sprinters, and this filly will need to run faster to win this, as her best Beyer to date is a 93, so the 3-1 ML might be considered by some to be an underlay.

Sensation

Big effort to win the Astarita in her latest, and that Beyer stands out here, but she will be hard-pressed to run back to that one at this extended distance, especially if she's under pressure from the start, as expected; the dam has produced a couple of horses who were multiple winners going long but the barn's stats with stretch-outs isn't great; expecting her to regress off this race one.

She Says It Best

Wired the field in the Alcibiades when she was able to get loose but there are 2 clear knocks: the race didn't produce that strong of a Beyer, and the Keeneland strip is carrying speed as much as ever this fall; there's little doubt regarding her strategy here, as she's the type that wants to be on the lead, but she's going to be hard-pressed to put away the speed and stave off the closers without a big step forward.

Ex Caelis

Beaten favorite in her last couple of starts, and she finished behind a couple of these, but she had excuses; two back she was behind Original Spin but she moved prematurely there and did well to hold the place; last time, she was wide and off the pace on a track that is extemely tough on closers; she in fact ran quite well to get 2nd, making a run on the turn while wide, and her recent works suggest she's coming into this BC in great shape; given the way this one shapes up, with several speeds in the line-up, she might be the right closer, especially at 15-1 on the ML.

Wild Fit

She could not put away Diamond Omi last time despite the fact that that rival was under pressure from the start, and she's now regressed with each start in terms of Beyers; have to wonder it's a coincidence that those races have gotten longer with each start; the good news is that she fits the race as a closer, since the pace figures to be quick, but she'll need to turn things around to get there first even with a clean trip off rapid splits.

A CLOSER LOOK

4th Belmont

Superfly

Full brother to stakes-winner Andromeda's Hero (475K in earnings, second in the Belmont Stakes) galloped out nicely after being outrun early in the Champagne, and should really appreciate today's extra distance; his only win to date came around 2 turns, and he'll have to deal with a one turn route here, but there should be plenty of pace to adequately setup his late kick; he certainly has the pedigree and the connections to threaten at a price, but prefer others for top honors.

Ivan Denisovich (IRE)

He is a three-quarter brother to Breeders' Cup Mile hero War Chant (a Grade 2 winner on dirt), and is a half to turf stakes-winner Double Cat (153K), and multiple SW Ministers Wild Cat (368K); his dam won the Breeders' Cup Distaff among her twelve victories so there is plenty of dirt ability in his pedigree; high-class sire gets about 12% winners on the all-weather tracks in Europe (according to The Racing Post); 'Ivan' may not have cared for the soft ground he encountered in his last 2 starts, and he looked good swooping past the field to win the July Stakes in the summer; tries a route and dirt for the first time, and has been a bit green on occasion; O'Brien won this race with Johannesburg in 2001; demand value before taking the plunge.

Leo (GB)

1/2 to Italian 2yo SW Balkenhol was aided by a moderate pace to win a subpar renewal of the Royal Lodge Stakes at Newmarket; long-striding sort picks up the always-dangerous Frankie Dettori, and has the tactical speed to sit a nice trip in the second flight or so; acts like he'll stay this extra distance, but there is a lot of turf pedigree in the family (second dam won the British 1,000 Guineas), and he simply may be better-suited to the grass; sire gets about 12% winners on the all-weather track, but this looks like a tough test for the main track debut run.

Set Alight

1/2 to multiple G2 turfer True Flare, multiple French stakes-winner River Flare, G2 winner Apple of Kent, German G3 winner Capital Secret, and multiple G3 turfer War Zone has tons of early speed, and figures to be prominent in the early stages; dam was stakes-placed in France, but sire Hennessy finished second in this race in 1995, and has 'nicked' well with Mr. Prospector mares (SW Handsome Hunk, etc); he's hard to hold in the early stages, and would not be well-served by battling it out on the front end today; taking a wait-and-see approach as the distance is a question.

Jealous Profit

Lightly-raced colt has a great deal of upside potential, but was a bit eager in his first start going a route of ground at Oak Tree; he pulled himself into the race early, but stayed on well in the lane considering the reports that he may have displaced his palate that day; his Beyer Speed Figures are a bit light when compared with those of the top contenders, but his stalking style plays well in this heat, and he is trained by one of Southern California's top conditioners; still a maiden, he's giving up lots of experience in this spot; originally sold for 50K as a yearling; leaning elsewhere for the winner

Dawn of War

Here's the versatile colt that pulled off the gate-to-wire shocker in a poor renewal of the Grade I Breeders' Futurity at Keeneland; may have been aided by a speed favoring surface that day, however, and it's unlikely that he'll make the early lead in this spot; he has done well from stalking range in the past, and think Castellano will have him just off the early leaders here; has last 2 wins came around 2 turns, and he'll get a big test stepping up to face the big boys of the division; thought he was getting leg weary late at Keeneland; second dam finished third in the 1991 Juvenile Fillies; prefer on the bottom of exotic wagers.

Stream Cat

It looked like this colt was destined to be a turf runner after winning his maiden in that restricted Saratoga stake, but has found his niche as a late-running router on the dirt in his last few races; stone-closer has yet to win around one turn, but he should get plenty of pace to chase and figures to be charging hard in the stretch; the 10/20 workout matches up with Biancone's 2nd Grand Survival (78 Beyer top) good to see him reunited with Stevens and he may have been compromised by a speed-favoring surface at Keeneland; improving colt with potential, but a minor award may be his ceiling today.

Sorcerer's Stone

Hard to knock a perfect runner, and this colt's trainer won the 1997 Juvenile with Favorite Trick; three-quarter brother to multiple G2 placed juvenile Holiday Thunder is out of a sister to G1 Dramatic Gold; worked hard to win the Arlington Washington Futurity around a one turn mile last time out; he was pressured while racing three wide between horses throughout, and still powered away in the lane; don't like the fact that he failed to clear leads in the stretch, however, as he may want to hang back off the pace with several other speedsters entered today; certainly fit on speed figures, and shouldn't be too far away when the real running begins; not out of this.

First Samurai

The likely favorite is a son of stakes-winner Freddie Frisson (263K, all wins sprinting); he won very green earlier this year as he had a tendency to lug in while racing to switch leads; still was able to overcome his inexperience in his first three starts before tiring off a more professional trip in the Champagne; deserving backer in the race; he sat a nice stalking trip behind a torrid speed duel and took command when Jerry Bailey asked the question; true, he did set an ideal setup route to that triple-digit Beyer Speed Figure, but he is a good routing and in the mood will be interesting to see how he puts on Lasix, but his early work should have him in a good spot entering the turn very dangerous contender.

Jealous Profit

Lightly-raced colt has a great deal of upside potential, but was a bit eager in his first start going a mile of ground at Oak Tree; he pulled himself into the race early, but stayed on well in the lane considering the reports that he may have displaced his palate that day; his Beyer Speed Figures are a bit light when compared with those of the top contenders, but his stalking style plays well in this heat, and he is trained by one of Southern California's top conditioners; still a maiden, he's giving up lots of experience in this spot; originally sold for 50K as a yearling, leaving elsewhere for the winner.

Dawn of War

Here's the versatile colt that pulled off the gate-to-wire shocker in a poor renewal of the Grade 1 Breeders' Futurity at Keeneland; may have been aided by a speed-favoring surface that day, however, and it's unlikely that he'll make the early lead in this spot; he has done well from stalking range in the past, and think Castellano will have him just off the early leaders here; his last 2 wins came around 2 turns, and he'll get a big test stepping up to face the big boys of the division; thought he was getting leg-weary late at Keeneland; second dam finished third in the 1991 Juvenile Fillies; prefer on the bottom of exotic wagers.

Dream Cat

It looked like this colt was destined to be a turf runner after winning his maiden in that restricted Saratoga stake, but has found his niche as a late-running router on the dirt in his last few races; stone-closer has yet to win around one turn, but he should get plenty of pace to attack, and figures to be charging hard in the stretch; the 10/20 workout matches up with Biancone's 2yo Grand Survival (78 Beyer top); good to see him reunited with Stevens, and he may have been compromised by a speed-favoring surface at Keeneland; improving colt, with potential, but a minor award may be his ceiling today.

Henny Hughes

He was purchased for over 4 million dollars after his sparkling early wins, and the son of 2yo SP Meadow Flyer (25K) may have been the most visually impressive in the Champagne as he dueled hard with another pace rival through very fast fractions; he put that pace toe away on the turn, but understandably tired when First Samurai came calling in the stretch; he may be the speed of the speed today, and it wouldn't be surprising if his nose is in front when they turn for home; there are lots of speed influences in his pedigree, however, and he has yet to win past 6 furlongs; dangerous 2yo gets Lasix for the first time, and must be respected, but the distance remains a question.

Has yet to take a backward step on the Beyer scale, and was utterly dominant in his last two races; has some stamina influences in his family, and figures to have enough bottom for this route after the 4 sprint tries; trained by one of the best in the business when it comes to 2yos, he is another with the speed to sit close to the expected hot pace; 10/18 work matches barn's 3yo Royal Moment (93 Beyer) while 10/3 and 10/10 works match barn's 2yo filly Devine Laughter (34 Beyer); Bailey leaps off to ride the likely favorite, First Samurai; can't count out, but may be best played 'underneath.'

Ultra-impressive in his last two starts out West, winning both races with plenty in the tank; have to wonder if he simply fell in love with the Del Mar surface as he failed to break his maiden at Hollywood, but he faced a very good 2yo in What a Song in his defeats, and had some excuses to boot; tries a route for the first time, but his pedigree is rich in class and stamina, and the extra distance shouldn't be a problem; if the pace is hot up front as expected, this colt may be the one to run them all down in the stretch; worked quickly over this surface here the other day; interesting, but make sure you get your value.

Full brother to multiple 2yo SW Don'tsellmeshort (402K, all wins sprinting) is a half to SP Swissle Stick (72K, only win sprinting); passed the route test in the Norfolk, but he was aided by his inside post position, and he wasn't facing the strongest of fields that day; lightly-raced colt makes the important third start of the form cycle, but they came home slowly in the Norfolk, and he may have to revert to stalking tactics today; wouldn't be surprised by a Beyer burst after pairing up speed figure tops, but faces a wide journey from outside post; originally sold for 150K as a yearling; gives out mixed feelings.

Here's the first foal from Breeders' Cup Distaff winner Beautiful Pleasure (she a sister to Arlington Million winner Mecke), and he is certainly bred to adore the extra distance; love the 2 sprints to a route move in the third start of the form cycle, and he gained valuable experience in his first start against winners in the Cowdin; have to wonder if it's a case of too much too soon, but his connections are first-rate, and he should be running hard at the expected fast pace in front of him; have to think he has Classics potential next year if all goes well; loses Prado to Henny Hughes, but Santos will have him in gear in the final furlong; don't underestimate, but he's another that may offer best value in the bottom slots of the exotics.

A CLOSER LOOK

5th Belmont

Luas Line (IRE)

Huge disappointment as 7/5 betting favorite in latest, pulled up. Finished just 3 others in allowance victory 2-back; concerns about her getting loose crazy and not having a lot left for the drive; see win over Asi V. elsewhere (Wend) 2-back horse 2-back won next race posting a pair of 93 Beyer speed figures in a Keeneland n2x allowance victory; set for Grade 3; projects to be best in the pace.

Film Maker

Finished 2nd in this event last year and rallied strongly in defeat in latest; a bit unlucky as she always seems to run well, but lose the spot for again is in her favor; she has does well at good price in races and you know today Val can win in a big one necked by the 2-back winner who Beyered 97 when winning a $1 million race at Hoosier next out; last win occurred on 'good' turf, so a little question the grass won't hurt; looks large threat at good price.

Sundrop (JPN)

Winless since 1st start of the year in a 3-horse field and finished behind this same pony in last pair and may exit this form she shows a decisive defeat to today's race favorite and defending champion Oaks Board. Dam, sire and Breeders' Cup 2-for-22 Dubai Board's prep will now be here; prefer others.

Still can't believe she woke up and won that last start at 35-1, absolutely ripping apart the Pick 4 and 6 that day; the 2-back winner finished 8th next out in a G1 KEE race (81 Beyer); $2 million turf earner has won the Flower Bowl each of the last 2 years and really hasn't done much in between those victories a year apart; does she go back to her sleepy form here?; trying to defy logic for the 2nd straight time.

Out of a stakes-winning dam (5-16, 230K turf), she was brought along slowly to start career, but it's been full blast for awhile now; is perhaps a notch below the top runners and didn't want any parts of soft turf 2-back; there's a pretty good chance today's lawn will have some moisture; have not seen her best since an all-out win 3-back on the Belmont inner turf; ranked a notch below.

Neither rider of her 4 American preps elected to stay here, although new rider Gomez exploded onto the national scene on 'Gold Cup Day here; this filly probably wants the one-mile distance where she seems at her best; could not kick with Megahertz in SoCal in last; place horse 2-back finished 5th next out (85 Beyer) in a DMR 125K event, then was 2nd (93) in an OSA 65K race; siding with others.

Wonder Again

Winless a long time and she clearly wants the ground as soft as possible; great sign that she was back to best in latest when just missing on firm turf; the barn has had tough luck this meet and regular rider Prado is just 3-for-22 this year for this top turf outfit; she figures to be a huge factor in the lane, but hard to expect a victory in this spot after so many near misses; underneath.

Pick-6 Players' Pool

Breeders' Cup Day, Oct. 29

Brad Anderson

Rich Nilsen

Ron Ruchtie

Last year, the PICK-6 PLAYERS' POOL was formed, allowing small bettors to be part of a large Pick-6 ticket. Led by the 3-member expert panel, the Players' Pool nailed the Breeders' Cup Pick-5 consolation five times for a return of $280,748. The Players' Pool returns for the 2005 Breeders' Cup Oct. 29 so join in the fun for as little as a $10 contribution. Join BrisBET.com and get in the Pool!

Megahertz (GB)

Some stats are hard to ignore and her trainer heads into this Breeders Cup 2-for-57 the only race on her form that is less than stellar is last year's Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare turf where she entered off a long layoff and never made any impact on a yielding grass course in Texas; she's shown she can run on soft grass (2nd in the Beverly D) since last year's far back defeat in the same spot; having a great year, but have mixed feelings remembering last year.

Favourable Terms (GB)

Makes only 3rd start of the year and she's had her races spaced far apart throughout lightly-raced career; the rider on all 6 wins sides with Mona Lisa, she was absolutely nowhere in the prep for this one, so going with others on top.

Intercontinental (GB)

She isn't easy to ride and has really only responded to Jerry Bailey, who leaves for the favorite and defending champion, Ouija Board; she's bred to this, a full to Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare winner Banks Hill is 15, 1.8M); hasn't shown her best past 9 furlongs and she also hasn't shown a fondness for turf with moisture; can't be for-57 in the Breeders Cup and are off to a slow start this meet; classy miler with some ages seemingly going against.

Mona Lisa (GB)

She's 1-for-13 on grass and hasn't done much in those overseas defeats either; curious that the regular rider of Favourable Terms ends up here; brief factor in the Beverly D before checking out of the race; would be a shocker.

Karen's Caper

She's out of a Grade 3 dam (5-14, 259K) and love the fact that she races in only Group 1 races, 4 overseas and a Grade 1 near-miss in U.S. debut; displayed fondness for American racing and was good, just not great overseas; Kentucky-bred's back home and her sire won the Breeders' Cup Mile, so some good angles looming here.

She's not entering this one like last year, 3rd in the Arc vs. the boys and dropping into the Filly and Mare turf; she enters this with just 2 preps, but was back to some of her best work in most recent race, defeating 12 others and giving weight to the field; have to forgive her 1st start this year as she was over-matched with the boys and was eased up early in that one; more curious is that Jerry Bailey rides the defending champ, not last year's win rider or the pilot of the winning prep race; the far outside draw would be more of a concern, but Bailey's simply a master on turf; very tough to deny again.

Defeated an excellent field in the Beverly D., then went way off best form in next pair; guess she only wants soft turf based on her 3-back race and next dull pair on firm ground; reunites with the pilot of Beverly D. win and Stevens is 16-for-64 for the trainer this year; haven't seen enough lately.

When has he ever put two efforts back to back? normally we'd say his huge effort previously would depress his odds more than is warranted but with 'Fog in the race that probably isn't the case; compared to previous runnings, today's pace isn't that strong and that might hurt this closer; class and pace vs. trip and pace; what if has a new blinker horse? nobody said this was going to be easy; can't blame backers.

Attila's Storm

Spiffy last race Beyer of 106 so now all this 3YO has to do is improve it by 5 or 10 points; short rest a small bonus as is 1 for 1 local tab; catches a break in that this year's sprint isn't as speed crazy as many so maybe this colt can stalk a not so terrifying early pace; P. Val. suffering from a sore foot but he's still a superior gate jock; make no mistakes though, Storm's chances of clearing off and getting an early breather are very hot horse on the major; also rise a favorite angle of course but the nay sayers will say a career top against this group for a 3YO is very tough; does this horse except for the inside post remind anyone of 03 inner Cajun Beat who paid $47.80?

Silver Train

Second on the morning line at 8-1 which tells you what the betting public thinks of 'Fog improving 3YO with career top 1 and 3 back all for modest connections doesn't sound so bad; 'Fog figures to get the jump on him and that's a knock against; this colt loves this surface and should have no problems with either his top or distance; he's working up a storm and we like the shorter following the Jerome; real question is whether he can put top efforts back to back something he failed to do in Amsterdam; if 'Fog runs his best race, then Trail will need to improve his best Beyer by 5 points or so; doesn't sound like a lot but it is.

Except for that turf try, he seems to be peaking at the right time; a bit surprised at the early zip he showed at Del Mar 3 back but maybe that's a sign of how good he's feeling; follow up in Forego was also solid and he gets bonus points for having shipped cross country; pace scenario is fine except for the small fact that he probably can't shake Lost in the Fog early; running hooked hasn't been a problem; lone local start was ages ago in the slop; a few things to like.

This horse should scare the Lost in the Fog can't lose camp; monster connections, Grade 1 proven, solid prep, and local experience; getting back to the Vosburgh, what was wrong with that effort? did you really want him to peak with a 110 Beyer there? he closed a ton off quick splits but without exerting himself too much; the only knock that we see, and it's minor, is that his running style isn't the best for this race flow; OR, and we know this sounds a bit crazy, what if all the speed/stalkers go nuts early because they know that if they let Lost in the Fog go early then the race is probably over?; just throwing that out there; if anyone can upset the applecart, this might be the guy.

Wildcat Heir

Gutty runner gets plenty of time off following his career top previously; you don't have to worry about a distance change for this guy unlike most of these; a stalking trip like many but at least he's in front of the closers; recent works are very sharp but are we missing something or did he skip the entire month of September? as good as his last race was, it was his only start this year; at least you can say he's never been better; Grade 1 proven; on paper; his A game matches up best to 'Fog; drawing directly inside of 'Fog is simply bad luck; still very dangerous.

Lost in the Fog

What's at stake here? hmmm, only sprinter of the year for sure, maybe even 3YO of the year, with an outside shot at horse of the year; the most talked about animal in racing; the nay sayers opine that he hasn't faced anything of quality; that's probably true but so what; he's never lost and he's never been threatened late in a race; he's got blazing speed but can also stalk which he's done twice before; he can run his 2nd quarter as fast as his 1st and that seems to break the will of all who have chased him; his lone local start was simply huge in that it looked as if Egg Head would put him to a test and he simply shrugged off that foe and powered home and 7 furlongs isn't even his best distance; the real deal

Elusive Jazz

Off the pace trip like many others isn't much of a help; career tops 1 and 3 back bode well but can this colt run back to back tops? maybe he didn't like the new polytrack at Turfway 2 back; by now, you should have some idea of how the track is playing; stalkers/closers usually have an advantage on these sweeping turns; main question is if you took away this guy's last race, would you still play him? thinking another new top a bit iffy especially for a runner who's yet to run locally; it was James Quinn who once said, "Except by accident, Grade I races are won by Grade I horses"; don't see any of those in this guy's pp's; can't play at all.

Only 7 starts for a 5YO a bit unusual; career top came on this surface in only his 2nd start; stalking trip like many; current form isn't the best considering he's facing the best sprinters on the planet; he got an early breather 2 and 3 back but still lost; what if he's better with a target? that he will get; yet to try graded stakes foes so his jump to these off so so form is ambitious to say the least; he can fire fresh and he won't have to weave his way thru traffic but his best efforts to date probably aren't good enough; tough spot for a new top; like others more.

He wins the award for deepest closer; added advantage is that IF he's got the back of the pack to himself he's more likely to relax; Espinoza might have an inside/outside option turning for home; now for the bad news, he's really not a sprinter; it's been over 2 years since he last tried this distance; absolutely needs a perfect trip, peak effort, and then some racing luck; today's average pace isn't going to help matters either; enjoyed a fast pace 2 back at Del Mar; capable of a top effort as that 109 can attest too, 4 back, but that also was with a favorable pace; not even sure he likes it here; outsider.

He's very good but is he great? working quite well; unlucky in that this year's edition isn't as speed heavy as most; maybe the fact that he loves this surface makes up for it; cuts back to 6 furlongs and he hasn't tried that since Jan 3 of '04; he often has the lead at the 1/8th pole in his mile tries but that's still a far cry from todays 6 furlongs; he comes in fairly fresh with a bullet work so getting his A game won't be the problem; a clean trip in a full field without insane fractions is; no doubt a player but someone will have to soften up 'Fog and that we just don't see.

Chilean bred proved he was over his ailments with the sharp upset score in the G1 Shadwell Mile at Keeneland, his 14th straight in the money performance; a heavy turf course posed him little trouble earlier in his career in his native country, so the weather shouldn't have much of an impact on his performance today; Pletcher often moves them up second off the layoff, so there's reason to expect this guy could exceed his Beyer top today; while he appears to be a cut below the top ones in here, it's encouraging to see his owners cough up the supplemental fee to start; must use him underneath in exotics.

Artie Schiller

Local favorite draws a great post for his style and he's never been off the board over the Belmont lawn; beaten favorite in this event last year, he was victimized by both traffic and a poor ride by the injured Migliore who coincidentally is on the mend again, so Gomez will get the mount; popular perception is that he's not the horse he was last year, but he hasn't been beaten by more than a half length all season; back at what is likely his best distance and with the aid of the Kelso prep in him he's one of the more solid contenders in here and he'll be a better price on the board than he's been in quite some time.

France based colt gave a decent account of himself as a sophomore in this event last year before fading late over a yielding course; he's a multiple Group 1 winner overseas, but he's only won once at this mile distance; 2 of the rivals who defeated him in his most recent heat return here as well; he's proven that he's top class, so it would be of little surprise if he were to finish in the mix here, but the other Europeans interest us a bit more.

Mare is dead speed, but there in lies two problems - she's female and she likes to run on the front end, the same place in which fave Lercidesanimour prefers to occupy; she's been a different animal since Mott took over and the presence of Bailey is certainly a plus, but she's taking on some tough customers today; she'll probably have to be used much harder early than she's used to and she's never finished on the board over anything other than firm ground.

Thought he'd run much better than he did in the Shadwell Mile, but he was kept well off the pace in a slow early fast late heat and still finished with interest; sophomore has yet to win at 8 furlongs, but he should get a more honest pace in this spot and he switches back to a rider who has had his share of success here in the states; expecting a much improved effort at a more appealing price.

Funfair (GB)

Motion gelding is undefeated in 3 stateside starts; capped off by the huge effort to defeat Artie Schiller in the G2 Kelso. Prado has seen enough to stick with him and barn opened eyes by upsetting the BC Turf last year with Better Talk Now; he had no problem handling the local course and he handles any course condition; looks like he's a big player, but he does pick up a significant amount of weight for this.

Finished between Gorella and Whipper in his most recent try and he'll get Lasix for the first time today; owns 3 wins and has never been off the board at this trip and Dettori takes the call; tough to separate the Europeans in here on paper and they ran true to that assessment at Longchamp in early September, with 4 of them finishing within a length and a half of each other at the wire; must be used in exotics.

Gorella (FR)

Hard not to like her stateside debut in Keeneland's G1 QEII Cup as she overcame a very slow pace to miss just a head at the wire, but she was facing straight sophomore fillies; while this is an entirely different ball game, she was right there with the boys at Longchamp and several that she beat return here as well; she's quite interesting at a price.

Defending champion enters this off a G2 Oak Tree Mile effort similar to the one that propelled him to victory at Lone Star last year; looks to be entering this in top form and he rarely fails to fire from off the pace; our main concern is the outside draw over a course he's never tried, but he overcame those very obstacles to win last year's renewal.

Valixir (IRE)

Regarded as the best of the European contingent in here, he flopped at odds on in the common Longchamp race won by Starcraft who was supplemented to the Classic for 800K. Group 1 winner at the trip will have his regular rider up, but he doesn't draw the best of posts and that could be the equalizer in here; expecting he'll give a strong account of himself, but his lack of speed is a bit of a concern from out here as he could fall into a tough trip if he's not used a bit early.

Hard to knock this Franke[illegible] year old who brings an 8-race winning streak over 4 different turf courses into this; G1 Arc Mile score may have been his best yet as he handled the yielding ground quite well while increasing his lead at the finish; he's 4 for 4 miling in North America, but this is one course he's yet to negotiate and breaking from the outside post in this trip puts him at a disadvantage right off the bat; he's the most likely winner, but at a price that likely hovers near even money, can't fault him looking to beat him.

Upon first perusal of the [illegible] entries, we were all set to [illegible] this guy as an exotics bomb; the sharp turf debut in the Kelso, but then he drew the post which we liken to a slow death; Pletcher colt is obviously a talented runner and he's the 6-5 choice in the 10 horse G1 Hollywood Gold Cup on an earlier this summer, but these guys are specialists and he would need every break to go his way in order to stay with them, including post [illegible] maybe he can still manage to sneak in the exotics but [illegible] more than have his work cut out for him today.

A CLOSER LOO
8th Belmont

Society Selection
Although the track was offic ly labelled fast for the G1 Gr Wand at Saratoga, there we heavy rainfall prior to the rac and perhaps because of th this talented filly was be m the ground in the late optio wagering; she never ened against Ashado on th day, but has defeated th champion previously. Hall o Fame trainer Jerkens gave he the usual endurance-building furlong workout prior to th event and it was an excellent move; post one may prove a headache in this bid, however, needs perhaps from Prado who may be loo to stay inside throughout.

Stellar Jayne
Millionairess has been wel since controlling the race o the G1 Ruffian, showing st heels to Society Selection i the process; has a near perfe record over this track and di also rate if need be, putting the call for the first time at th speedy grey and he may ne to dead-send today, a sce which could prove to be fat to this affair; has the tem ty to withstand intense pre pressure if adopting the lea gy.

Ashado
Tremendous filly had lone court advantage and saved h her failure in the G1 Personal Ensign with a game score the G1 Beldame; has four decisions with Slisa aboard the past but draws easily fa outside that key rival who is likely become the target-for setter; expert connection involved for this race, a prev specialist at the distance an rainfall prior to post will work her favor as well; a victory wraps up the Eclipse Award her but notice she has take five times in the past at odd on; highest respect notwithstanding less.

Nothing But Fun
Aiming very high here as the flawless Beldame winner through runners previously for the score in ten but is facing older now and has not gone this route of ground before; having a rest may be that just is not enough of a factor; current work tab indeed excellent, nothing when she ran in her own generation.

Finished alongside Nothing But Fun in a thriller at Philadelphia and she turned in a solid effort at this trip in the Gazelle but lacks the seasoning of these older, and gifted Amazons; doubt she can keep pace during the final stages.

California girl has a superior exacta record but may prefer races around two turns; jockey Gomez having an outstanding year, winning twice here earlier this month when riding in graded stakes and is now familiar with the configuration of Belmont Park; encouraged by recent breeze in the mud.

Thought she would be part of the pace last time but she was wisely taken back and then was jammed up a bit when attempting to run down the mighty Ashado; draws a particularly good post in this massive field and if she can improve just a bit more, this could be her breakthrough race; note the important third start off the bench angle as well.

Brave showing last time when favored; although blanked this year, two of those losses were against males; failed in two previous efforts over this track though but note the running line of a year ago, the Breeders' Cup at Lone Star when she unleashed a bold, outside run against Ashado; the track was favoring the inside as usual that day; curious item.

Hollywood Story

She received a perfect tune-up in her last attempt vs. Healthy Addiction and should be primed and ready; quality rallier needs a more intense pace in order to be effective; if recent rains continue, however, she may be unable to reel in the front-runners; goes back to Valenzuela who was aboard for a good showing back in Febuary; better odds today for sure and is the value play.

Drew away in the Gazelle in professional manner; likes the course and distance and is one of the more versatile runners in the field; outstanding workout on 10/16 over the deep Oklahoma training track in the mud; has finished out of the money only once and that race was around two turns.

Could not overcome the slow pace in the G1 Spinster and had to settle for secondary honors; she finished boldly on a very wide path, rarely the place to be at Keeneland; consistent lass is several notches below on the Beyer scale, but remains an underrated runner nonetheless.

Was surprisingly only 2 to 1 against this same celestial crew in the Beldame and might have not fancied being shut down inside and then between runners; draws an overlooked post under Bailey today, but will have to improve dramatically off last performance; workout breezes at five-eighths are a very encouraging sign.

Capeside Lady

Pressed the pace of Stellr Jayne in the Ruffian only to run out of energy in the final furlong; that was a tightening effort though and she made a strong middle move (on a difficult path) in the Spinster (won after, similar to Pleasant Home); should be primed and ready and odds will be very appealing even with expert connections involved.

A CLOSER LOOK

9th Belmont

Shake the Bank

Don't be confused - his presence here isn't so much based on his own merits but instead to ensure a brisk pace for stablemate Better Talk Now; hey, those tactics worked in the G1 United Nations and G1 Man o' War so certainly similar instructions will be the call here - go out there, set a fast pace then get the heck out of the way; but he has little chance of staying up there all the way around.

Shirocco (GER)

Fabre brought In the Wings here to win the '90 BC Turf off a similar 4th in the Arc; this year's Arc was a marvelously strong race and this guy may be the most underrated top horse in Europe; if anything he might be fitter now with a couple races in him after an 11-month hiatus; give in the ground sure wouldn't bother him, either; awfully attractive at a nice price.

Bago (FR)

Little doubt he's among the elite in Europe - you get such a ranking when you win the Arc as a 3yo then come back and finish a good 3rd in it again the following year; certainly has handled non-firm going just fine and while he was a bit disappointing earlier this season that inspired Arc run may mean he's back to the form that made him so good last year; plenty scary.

The defending champ, and he's certainly done his part to validate that win this year with 2 more G1 SWs; he got pace help for those wins and should get it again today; trouble is, his pacemaker also ensures a brisk pace for the Europeans who are going to love the set up as well; the U.S. contingent got a big boost when Relaxed Gesture and Meteor Storm ran 1-2 in front of some big Euros in the G1 Canadian International last week...but does this guy's Arlington Million hint that maybe he's in trouble if one of the Euro monsters does a Powerscourt and throws on this side of the Ocean? still due ample respect.

Azamour (IRE)

Up until the G1 Irish Champion he was pretty much considered Europe's top elder; he had a troubled run that day, but also came out of the race with an injury, which forced him to miss the Arc and had him switch his focus to this race; his form on left-hand courses is excellent and he sure won't mind the big sweeping turns of BEL; no doubt on his best day he can beat any man's turfer, save maybe Hurricane Run, but the Irish Champion form hasn't held up so well, there's the injury and is this guy really as good on non-firm turf? mixed feelings.

Almost certainly ranked behind stablemates Oratorio, Powerscourt and Scorpion but he's no slouch to be sure; the U.S. start was rock solid - he took all the worst of it in terms of shipping and new surroundings and wasn't beaten by much in the G1 Joe Hirsch Turf Classic; that being said, he's got to find a way to turn the tables on Shakespeare and English Channel, as well as find a way to handle Azamour and Bago who seemed to have his number in Europe; still a solid performer and maybe with that race over the course he's ready to leap forward too, for thought.

Unbeaten still, and he was surely tested in the Joe Hirsch when he got hung out wide and had to endure a stretch-long battle with crack 3yo English Channel; looked monstrous when he won the G2 Belmont BC Handicap...a win that looks even better since the horse he roared by (Meteor Storm) came right back to be a good 2nd in the G1 Canadian International last Sunday at WO ahead of some Euro bigshots; no doubt enormously talented, but there are concerns: some Euros here are likely better than Ace, English Channel could move forward and offspring of Theatrical have never seemed quite as strong on non-firm footing; Mott has 2 BC Turf wins: Theatrical, Fraise; major player

Been a solid performer the last few years, and that huge G3 Ky. Cup Turf win last time was possibly his best effort; note, too, a good 2nd to Better Talk Now in the G1 United Nations so this guy isn't a fish out of water; still, only 2 triple-digit Beyers shows he's got some work to do if he's to be a player here; it's not out of reach to be sure, and maybe that KD win last time indicates he's ready to turn the corner...but for the most part he's found the move into G1 company a bit too much to handle, and this spot looks even tougher; dicey.

Trainer Drysdale won this race with Prized in '89; Neil isn't one to go to a gunfight with a knife, either, so don't be too quick to dismiss this guy; showed he belongs in top company with a super 3rd in the G1 Arlington Million - remember, Better Talk Now and some other bigshots finished behind him that day; freshened, and he came right back to nicely win a G1 at OSA...yes, that wasn't the strongest bunch but it shows he continues to progress and that on top of his Arlington Million run make him an interesting prospect to be sure.

It's always a huge leap to go from facing just 3yos to facing elders but this guy passed that test with flying colors as he was unlucky not to win the G1 Turf Classic against Shakespeare and Ace; loss to Gun Salute in the G1 Secretariat looks better now, too, as that guy came right back to win the G3 Hawthorne Derby; certainly eligible to improve further and remember last year Kitten's Joy made quite a splash in this division as a 3yo; intriguing.

Laura's Lucky Boy

Hard-knocking runner has usually found the move into the deep end of the pool a smidge too much to handle but trainer Mandella isn't in the Hall of Fame because he puts his horses in bad spots; Mandella has said he's always wanted to get 12fs for this guy...well, he gets it here and from a Beyer standpoint he's not really that far behind the big boys here; note, however, the only other time he shipped out of SoCal resulted in his worst outing; sure to try hard but in this end of the pool that often simply isn't enough; shaky.

One heckuva claim - Mitchell haltered him for $80K and the horse has since won a G2 and been a close 3rd in a G1 out west; never tried this caliber before and he's also being asked to ship for the first time; Mitchell last year was in a similar situation with another high-priced claim who had done so well (Star Over the Bay) but by as he might that fine runner found these waters too deep & that likely to happen again?

3yo with plenty of oomph in that win over English Channel in the G1 Secretariat looks great now since 'Channel came right back to give Shakespeare fits in the G1 Joe Hirsch; freshened and did what he had to in winning the G3 Hawthorne Derby; will certainly have to do better, but those AP races show he is certainly capable of better; it's not only his first time vs. elders but now he's facing some the best in the world and trip he's never tried on a course he's never seen; still, doesn't follow if English Channel is considered a factor here but this guy has a shot, look out, yes, but what if he's a three horse at AP? tough call.

A CLOSER LOOK

10th Belmont

Rock Hard Ten

The Big 'Cap winner is back at Belmont for the 1st time since helping spoil Smarty Jones' shot at immortality in the Belmont, a race which saw him finish off the board for one of only 2 times in career; the gray colt is back in top form, seeking 5th straight as the top Beyer runner in the Classic. Goodwood prep saw him score while within himself over Gr. I Haskell victor Roman Ruler and rail draw in a race lacking much in the way of early speed; should make for an outstanding close-range trip; will be top favored over Saint Liam while trying to triumph outside of California for the 1st time; Mandella captured this in 2000 with Pleasantly Perfect, quite capable.

Sun King

1st of Nick Zito and Tracy Farmer's longshot pair could fall into the role of pacesetter in this relatively paceless Classic; adding blinkers certainly helped this colt, as he impressed while overcoming post 14 to capture the Pennsylvania Derby; of course today's competition is much stiffer and there's the matter of his distant 3rd here last out behind Borrego and Suave in initial try against elders; improved colt projects for soft trip on or near possibly sloppy fractions for ever-dangerous Zito; you can do worse looking for a longshot exotics inclusion.

Choctaw Nation

Stretch-runner was beaten less than a length by Borrego in the Pacific Classic but possibly banks on faster than expected fractions in today's Classic; California invader has yet to crack the exacta at 10 furlongs although he garnered 3rd in retired '04 Classic running Roses in May; in this spring's Dubai World Cup; triumphed the only time he did not visit the triple-digit Beyer mark; Espinoza also piloted Super Frolic last out but returns in the irons today; siding with others.

Oratorio (IRE)

1st of a trio of individuals venturing in from England for the Classic is a multiple G1 winner; top trainer O'Brien is no stranger to capturing a BC event with runner making main track debut (Johannesburg in the '01 Juvenile) and he did it right here at Belmont Park; 3-year-old gets Lasix and has really improved lately, rebounding from 10th in Epsom Derby to string together pair of G1 triumphs; would be a mild surprise in U.S. and dirt debut.

Perfect Drift

The elder statesman usually settles for minor awards vs. top competition, as he did in last year's Whitney and the last pair of Pacific Classics; can't question his class or stamina and he did rebound from a disappointing Hawthorne Gold Cup loss with gallant try in the '04 Classic (Ghostzapper fired a 124 Beyer!); warhorse likely needs to bring his tactical speed to the proceedings to threaten at a long price; must fire best shot to upset but a small slice seems his ceiling.

Sir Shackleton

Zito's #2 finished within 2 lengths of Saint Liam in the Woodward but note that foe was 'safely clear while wrapped up, winning in handy fashion'; colt became a G2 winner traveling 7 furlongs in Florida but has only managed to pick up minor awards while going long in 2005; millionaire has yet to finish in the money in a trio of 1 1/4 mile attempts; others rank higher.

Super Frolic

Chestnut exits an upset of Perfect Drift in the Illinois slop; exits paired-up triple-digit Beyers, which he had only done once before (summer of 2004), so Cerin's regimen appears to really agree with him; longshot's hopes may hinge on him getting involved with a slow pace; Espinoza, in the saddle for last-out triumph, lands on Choctaw Nation; not expecting a victory.

Suave
The remote JC Gold Cup winnerup (Borrego was taken in hand, galloping home in hand fashion') has attained a new level of consistency at age 4, led from gate to wire while easturning the Spa's G2 Saratoga BC at this very distance although he did so at expense of only 4 opponents with shouldering just 114lbs. Pleakeeps the faith as longshot his hope to gain revenge Saint Liam (runner-up to pair of G1 wins); others put nod.

Flower Alley
The Travers winner enjoyed Saratoga meet but failed class test against elders Saturdays ago (a race in which the plan of entering Bishop Court Hill backing 2004 Eclipse winning trainer Pletcher/Velazquez pair rebound with individual who his best running around 2upstate; Monday bullet apsaw him outdroll 75 runnehas him set for better close range; others rank a higher.

Jack Sullivan
The next English shipper the Classic with 5-race winstreak on display; 5-time winning rider Dettori is to pilot individual who ended to 4th behind 4-time American invaders in the Dubai World Cup; he's winless that 4th Middle East start gets Lasix in U.S.; unlikely least unlike many Europeans all of his victories have on dirt; believe a triumph of reach.

Borrego
It has all come together late-runner at the consistent 4-year-old campaigns Pacific Classic winner was fluke with an honest pace behind consistent foe the JC Gold Cup; with pace may not be at today's Classic but runs extra credit for handling new surface with ease manner of victory under when finishing 2nd to Jones in the Arkansas and then disappointing Derby/Preakness; has admirably consistent already proven he can to race too far (1¼ mi too slow; very dangerous

A Bit O'Gold

Versatile runner dives into deep water in initial start away from Canada; captured 2/3rds of Canada's Triple Crown but it appears possible that he's at his very best on turf (2 of 3 '05 dirt attempts have resulted in defeat); G3 Dominion Day score, achieved from close range at 10 furlongs, grants him a license to compete with these on the main track; talented individual probably finds this task out of reach in 1st trip to America.

$2 million earner enters the Classic with outstanding credentials; tactically-inclined individual is the lone Classic entrant to have topped the 120 Beyer mark and exits a facile victory in the Woodward; 3-time Classic winner Bailey took over nicely for Prado in the Woodward but all of his skill is required today out of post 13; 5-year-old's positional zip gives him an edge on many although today's wide slot is eligible to really complicate matters; consider, but it won't be easy from way out here.

New Zealand-bred was also pre-entered for the Mile but Camani, trainer of '94 Mile winner Barathea, opted for the richer Classic; of course, connections may have reevaluated their event choice if they knew they'd draw post 14 here; 5-year-old has already achieved difficult tasks, venturing from down under to eventually capture a pair of G1 events; simply suspect that his very best race comes at 1 mile on grass, not 1 1/4 miles on dirt; can't tout him today.
