A CLOSER LOOK

Preakness

Blumin Affair

Off-pace style doesn't figure to be a problem; the last winner of this race who led after 6 furlongs was Aloma's Ruler in '82; as for the last 2 Preakness winners, Prairie Bayou was 8th after 6 furlongs in '93 and Pine Bluff was 5th at that stage in '92; colt has some of the better Beyer figures in the field; Van Berg won this event with Alysheba ('87) and Gate Dancer ('84); Bailey took it with Hansel ('91); combination of good speed figures and quality connections is somewhat offset by an obvious flaw: he always seems to run into somebody better - and therefore has yet to win a stakes race; on the other hand, the Preakness was Gate Dancer's initial stakes win; at least an exotics threat; those taking a dip in the win pool will get moderate odds on a logical contender.

Concern

Trailed for most of the Arkansas Derby before passing Blumin Affair and Silver Goblin, among others; came home in about :36 for last 3 furlongs; he and stablemate Looming are the lone probables who have competed at Pimlico; was a weakling in the speed-figure department prior to the Ark. Derby and it would be comforting to see more than one strong Beyer fig; fact he's had time off might lessen the possibility he'll regress to less exciting form; Small, best known for his work with Broad Brush, is off to an excellent start this meet; main handicapping issue is whether he can repeat closing move from Ark. Derby.

Go for Gin

Granted, lots of things went right for him and wrong for some other contenders in Ky. Derby; however, that doesn't change fact the colt, Zito and McCarron each came through with noteworthy performances when it counted most; his Beyer figure of 112 for the Derby looks great compared to the winning figs from previous 3 years (105 for Sea Hero, 107 for Lil E. Tee and 107 for Strike the Gold); Sunday Silence ('89) is the last Derby winner to repeat in the Preakness; last 3 Derby winners who competed here ran 5th or worse; pace figures to be lively, but Go for Gin is versatile in terms of running style; devotees of the "sheets" loved his improving pattern of figures coming into the Derby; perhaps he won't run quite as well in this race, but with Holy Bull, Strodes Creek and Brocco among the missing, he might not have to; the 2 most recent Preakness winners were favored in the betting, boosting all-time success rate of favorites in this event to 52 percent; has good chance to win this leg of the Triple Crown; final betting decision may depend on your philosophy regarding chalk horses.

Closer was scratched from Ky. Derby because of the sloppy track; won the La. Derby and split field in the Blue Grass without running particularly fast on the Beyer scale; Roussel knows what it takes to succeed at a high level, as he won '88 Preakness and Belmont with Risen Star; Alydar colt has the fewest starts among these runners - and perhaps more room to develop; the less figure-oriented you are, the easier it is to use him; prefer those who have run faster.

Brought a 4-race winning streak into his first graded race, the Grade 3 Federico Tesio; made another eye-catching late run, but missed by a nose and was DQ'd to 9th for bumping Wise Judgement approaching the stretch; closing for a lower slot in the triple would be a surprising effort; like stablemate Concern more.

Colt was the most expensive yearling sold at public auction in North America in '92 ($1.7 million); ran to his super mud breeding in winning the Derby Trial; Go for Gin trainer Zito is on record as saying this Whittingham-trained colt is the one to beat; but the last 10 Preakness winners also started in the Ky. Derby; Charlie is among the all-time greats at getting a horse cranked up for a major test; got Strodes Creek to run the race of his life and finish 2nd in Ky. Derby; for what it's worth, Strodes Creek beat this colt by 5 lengths in the Santa Anita Derby last month; previous 2 Derby Trial winners (Alyded in '92, Cherokee Run last year) went on to finish 2nd in Preakness, but they both looked better from the figure standpoint; speed handicappers will view Numerous as an underlay, but Bald Eagle zealots will be eager to support him.

AT THE DISTANCE

Daily Racing Form's "At the Distance" record for each horse is sure to be a handicapping help. The record is a lifetime compilation of horse's starts at today's distance, with separate statistics compiled for turf and dirt. "At the Distance" stats are compiled in 21 groups, each representing a distance, or a range of distance. Thus, if today's race is at one mile on turf, the "Dist" record will show all races for each horse at distances from seven and half furlongs to a mile and 40 yards on grass.

The complete list of ranges used to compile "At the Distance" records follows:

Turned in one of the fastest juvenile performances of '93 in sprint at Arlington; then showed he could get 9 furlongs in graded company when he wired the Beam field April 2; played caboose role at 1-2 in Illinois Derby; Robertson said gelding wasn't eating well, then injured his stifle leaving the gate and ran the entire race on his left lead; adds to expected pace heat and handicappers who shun his modest breeding help the price for those who see his glass as half-full; despite ugly last race, he's not totally out of the picture.

Colt who competes for Motown founder Berry Gordy stopped (though not in the name of love) late in the Ky. Derby; Rash didn't want him so close to the pace last time; therefore, jockey Antley, who has been spectacular this year in California, is replaced by lower-profile Bartram; must note Bartram is 3 for 3 with him; seemed to be entering Ky. Derby on the improve; bettors who can forgive the off race 2 weeks ago may be tempted to use 2nd-time Lasix runner, because he has stretch punch and should be a decent price again; playable longshot.

Shiprock

Comes to the party with no '94 wins and weak Beyer figures; was 3rd in Irgun's Wood Memorial last month, but was 8 3/4 lengths behind 2nd-place Go for Gin; while Go for Gin went forward from the Wood, this guy would have had trouble outrunning Boog Powell in the Withers; most bettors will be stunned if this ship comes in.

Must buck a powerful trend, as the last 18 horsers who have been first or 2nd in the Preakness made their previous start at Churchill Downs (not necessarily in Ky. Derby); gray gelding has tremendous early foot and some of the better Beyers in the bunch; there will be debate whether 1:10 1/5 work Sun. was too fast; running lines prove he's not a "need-the-lead" sort; lack of a graded stakes victory is a mild concern; if he goes off at 8-1 or higher, would lean toward optimistic view when plotting exotics strategy.
