Strike Zone is an advanced metric driven report that predicts how a starting pitcher will perform. It combines past performance data with today's environment into one number. Higher the number, the better the pitcher should pitch. Lower the number, worse he'll likely pitch. There are 2 Pitcher Power Ratings (PPR's). One is pitcher data for three years (PPR 3). The other uses the data for this year only (PPR 1). The most important number is PPR 3. This is the Pitcher Power Rating using 3 years of pitcher data combined with today's environment (wind, umpire, air density and more). Next most important number is PPR 1 (just the current year). Blue numbers indicate a good game. AVG = Last 3 Game Score avg BP = Bullpens Umpire = Trends Park = Type Wind = Direction, Strength Air Density = Lower better for hitting
