To say Ward has owned this race of late is an understatement; he has won the last three runnings of this fixture including last year with Twilight Gleaming and he won the year before on this very course with Golden Pal; do not be too harsh about the Asco t effort; miss had to ship around the world and she was prominent until reality set in; she came back with a vengeance at Saratoga last time and was boosted when the place horse last time won next out in a $450K stakes at KD and then was third of eleven in the Grade 3 Matron; the blood is solid here as her half-brother Emperor was a Grade 1 winner on grass and banked nearly a million; look out.

Bothered at bit in the only defeat, this one has been handled already by some of the foes today and he may get lost in the shuffle on the tote board; fit enough to at least blowout since the last race and there is plenty of speed in her to promote the ne eeded late run; Rosario fits this runner to a T; do not sell too short.

Any horse that can beat 20 rivals like she did in the Queen Mary has talent and can obviously run; the third and eleventh finisher last time won next out; she was dueled into submission last time and note she was agile enough in the debut to overcome the dwelt line; travelling a shorter sixteenth of a mile here, must be left in the hopper.

Runner has nearly repaid his $30K purchase price nearly 10 fold already; he has the experience of going long now after tiring at the Jersey shore and that race just might have done him a world of good; he did something in that second win that is not seen every day when he came back on to win; love the fact he has trained locally a few times and should be comfortable with the surroundings; could very well make amends for the flop at 2-5.

It took this filly a few races to figure it out but she is rolling right now; she was game in the last race but is basically out to prove the 47-1 shocker was no fluke; the place horse in the maiden win cashed next out in a MSW here by 8 lengths with a 79 Beyer; homebred has a right to grow into her skin as her sibling Lady Apple won multiple Grade 3 stakes, was G1 placed and earned over a million; value should be there.

Dismissed in the debut at Santa Anita, the fans at Oceanport did not make the same mistake in the Tyro; game last time despite drifting a bit, he has to deal with the Asmussen again among other rivals; colt is one of a number in here with sub :22 speed and it should be a slugfest on the front end; not sure the race sets up great for him here.

Rags to riches stories are popular because everybody loves the underdog; this runner is out to show the wins at Prairie Meadows were just to get him ready for the big national stage; the 8/27 place horse has lost twice since, the last in an N2L spot at Delta by a head; Sharp Azteca 2 for 16 with first-time turf performers; sire was a Grade 1 winner, never turfed; dam's lone won was a dirt sprint; this is her first to go; this is a very demanding chore trying to beat proven turf stars.

Baffert not really known for super success with grass runners but this racer may be the exception; racer showed a bit of a new wrinkle last time from just off the pace and that was after the slight hop at the break; note he set the new track record in the opener and love the drills coming to this race; back to the original pilot this time; legit player for all the money.

 No mistakes so far; like the way he drew off in the debut and he pretty much got an uncontested lead in the second win; best if send along but there are several others in here with designs on the lead; if he does not make the lead, then what?; best of 45 bullet locked and loaded; not sure that will be enough to put him over the top here.

 A popular winner of the debut, runner has given way in the drive in the last two races and he is likely hooking the fastest splits of his career this time; he is in good enough shape to have come back and drill since the last race and is probably looking at a stalk and kick kind of a run here; racer may be hard-pressed to crack the trifecta.

CLOSER LOOK: She was undefeated prior to not being able to keep up to And Tell Me Nolis in the Grade 1 Del Mar Debutante; no obvious excuses, although she may have been intimidated being under outside pressure while stuck on the rail; dam won a couple of stake races going long and around three turns at Northlands Park but so far there are no route winning sibs in the family; would be a surprise.

She was supplemented to this following her runner-up finish in the Grade 1 Frizette where she set an honest pace and held on well but could not hold off Chocolate Gelle; not sure if she needs the lead but other speed will not make her task easy; dam did not win in two starts and from two sibs one winner with all 6 victories coming in sprints; Rosario bails to ride Chop Chop but no complaints with Johnny V picking up the mount; the distance could be an issue, though.

Daughter of Arrogage overcame adversity to win the Grade 1 Del Mar Debutante and G2 Chandelier in her latest and she is not only a winner at the distance, but she can pass horses and there will be speed coming back to her; her Beyer Speed Figures are not as high as some of the main players in the field, but she is determined and we know she won't quit trying if things don't go smoothly; contender.

The 7-2 morning-line favorite looked good beating You're My Girl in the Grade 1 Frizette running over a sloppy surface and she did not have any trouble handling a fast track when she romped in her maiden win; she will be going around two turns for the first time, but she is out of a mare who broke her maiden going 1 1/8-miles in a race washed off the lawn, so expecting the distance won't be an issue; she is versatile, too, which gives Ortiz options depending on the break, which could be crucial with her breaking from an outside post in this bulky field; contender.

She is a half-sister to Frank's Rockette, a multiple graded sprint stakes winner with over $1 million in earnings so it was not a surprise she overcame getting away last when she won her debut going 5 1/2-furlongs in a MSW race at Saratoga; however, she could not overcome a terrible start in the Grade 1 Spinaway and also in the G1 Frizette, where she broke a lot better, but was still last getting out of the gate; there is some talent here but until she shows us she can break with the field we are not jumping on the band wagon.

She beat Wonder Wheel in the Grade 1 Spinaway and ran okay when finishing third behind Chocolate Gello and You're My Gal while running over a sloppy surface for the first time in the G1 Frizette; her bullet 4-furlong move over the Belmont training track Oct. 27 tells us she is feeling good about her self and maybe she just did not care for the wet conditions in her only loss; she has tactical speed so maybe Lezcano can work out a trip from this post; maybe being the key word.

Did not think there was much doubt the stewards were going to move her from third to fourth in the Grade 1 Alcibiades for drifting out and bumping with Xigera; nonetheless, it was still a solid effort in just her second start and first try going around two turns; easy to imagine her moving forward with the experience behind her but hard to imagine her getting the trip she probably needs breaking from this post; tough call. -Randy Goulding

CLOSER LOOK: Showed talent in Ireland but came to the U.S. a few months ago and blossomed in SoCal, rattling off 3 straight wins, all at this trip, 2 of them stakes; certainly bred to have ability as daddy was an all-world top-class Euro who won the G1 BC Turf; trainer D'Amato comes here on a tear having won multiple stakes last week, including the Bryan Station here; filly packs a punch and obviously the mile suits; Meditate beat her easily in Ireland May 15 but this gal might be a much better filly now than she was then; SoCal fillies, however, have had no success in this race.

2nd to Last Call in the G1 Natalma at WO Sept. 17 but remember this girl had traffic issues at a key juncture which surely cost her some ground; to her credit she kept to her task well for 2nd; that also shows she handles the mile; while she came from 7th that day note a wire-to-wire maiden win sprinting there a few months ago so there's some speed in her arsenal; brings some splendid works into this and remember she was favored in the Natalma.

Went into the G1 Natalma at WO Sept. 17 as a maiden who's flashed talent and came out of it a G1 SW; bided her time, moved wide into the lane to commence her run and that may have been key as there was traffic to her inside; she encountered none of that but kept on well, grabbing a clear lead by the eighth pole and holding sway thereafter; no shock she likes to route on turf as daddy won the G1 BC Turf and was champion turf male; worked well for this.

Looked super blasting maidens on SAR turf Sept. 4; $300K daughter of top sire Tapit next tried the G2 Ms. Grillo, which trainer Brown has used before as a launching pad into this, pressed the issue from the start but couldn't quite outdo Pleasant Passage to end up 2nd; that was still a good run and maybe she wasn't thrilled with the yielding ground; it figures firmer for this and now shown versatility in her 3 starts as well; Brown has won 5 of the 14 runnings.

2 starts, 2 wins, including the G2 Ms. Grillo which has been a successful springboard for this race; showed guts in the Ms. Grillo, too, as she went right to the lead and basically rebuffed Free Look all the way around; that not only showed spunk, it showed she could handle non-firm ground; likely doesn't have to worry about non-firm turf here and note her debut win came on firm ground; shown she can route and a bullet work Oct. 22 says she's doing well for a HOF trainer, who isn't run to press down hard on his 2yos either.

First 2 races at SAR were smashing; in fact, they were so good she was sent off the 6-5 favorite in the G2 Ms. Grillo at BAQ vs. some tough cookies; alas, after stalking she was fairly one-paced to end up 3rd, though not really a threat to 1-2 finishers Pleasant Passage and Free Look, who she must deal with again here; in her defense, maybe she didn't relish that yielding ground; it figure firmer for this and maybe that can get her back on track; tactical speed can get her a stalking trip which may be key in this bulky field.

Has something no one else in her possesses - a win over this course this meet; it was a beaut, too, as she set a modest pace under some pressure in the G2 Jessamine, then blew the race open into the lane and doing so with ease; cuts back a half-furlong but that shouldn't matter as she was far clear after mile in that Jessamine win; and whiel she led all the way, note her maiden win came with a pace-pressing trip so she's no need-the-lead type yet has the speed to be forwardly placed, likely ahead of the mob and the inevitable traffic issues.

That's likely the best 2yo filly in Europe she ran 2nd to in a G1 in Ireland Sept. 11 and then another excellent 2yo filly she ran 2nd to in a shorter G1 in England Sept. 24; won her first 4 starts before those so she's got loads of quality; it is a new, longer trip to go with the new surroundings but the way she finished up her 2 7f races hints she'll handle today's added ground; O'Brien has had much success shipping to the U.S. for the BC and this girl's sprint speed can have her forwardly placed and in front of what figures a jammed-up field.

Debut win on CNL turf going longer than this was terrific as she laughed at rivals; it's tough enough to win first time out but to do so routing is a tall task, but she did it; that earned her a trip to WO for the G1 Natalma but she was jostled in traffic turning for home to lose some ground into the lane; she got going, however, and ran on for 3rd; in other words, that was a very encouraging run; it was just her 2nd start so there's ample room for growth; the draw is no bargain but note some handiness and acceleration in her debut which may help her avoid getting hung out to dry on the first turn.

Looked good blasting maidens routing on SAR turf Aug. 28, winning geared down; in fact, it was so good they gave her a shot at the G1 Alcibiades trying dirt for the first time and shipping for the first time here Oct. 7 and she was not disgraced; in fact, she got bounced around late or might have finished closer; back to turf here which can't hurt, and a bullet work Oct. 20 for a sharp trainer says there are no ill effects from the Alcibiades; got no help from the draw, though she's shown tactical speed in all 3 starts so maybe that trait can help her avoid damage from this post; more than a little interesting.

Got no help from the draw; still, she brings some good form with her from Ireland, though it's worth noting only 2 of the 14 runnings of this race have been won by Euros; showed speed in Europe, which likely translates here to a stalking trip; it might, at least, help her avoid getting hung out to dry from this tough post; the way she finished up in those last 27f races, though, make you wonder if she wants today's added furlong.

CLOSER LOOK: Scratched out of the Bowman Mill here last Saturday to go here instead; such a move surely speaks of some confidence; and why not?; after all, this $330K son of Nyquist (2yo male champ won this race as well) has done nothing wrong in 2 starts, including easily beating allowance foes sprinting here Oct. 8; that said, there are hurdles as not only are these much tougher, it's his first time in a stakes, first time routing, and his Beyers are fare behind most of these; but hey, Lobo isn't one to go outside the lines too often; still, it's a big ask.

Stalked the pace in the LRL Futurity Oct. 1, challenged into the lane, took over in midstretch and drew clear to win smartly; cost $350K and is a son of top sire Tapit so you know there are some expectations here; still, the Beyer pales in comparison to the favorites so a drastic move forward is required; at least he's handled 3 different track in 4 starts so odds are he'll handle this place; still, the water is quite a bit deeper today.

Been monstrous out West with 3 romping wins; not only won easily, he ran fast as his 3 Beyers are the best 3 figs in the race; top Beyer (104) was earned the first time he routed, at this trip, in a G1 at SA last time out Oct. 8 so he's shown he might be even better routing; continues to work in strong fashion; cost $550K and is a son of all-world Arrogate so you know there are some expectations here; all that being said, it's the first time he's had to ship and it's not like he's facing a bunch of pats ies; Baffert tied with Lukas for most wins in this race (5).

Off a smashing debut win at BEL May 27 he went into the G3 Sanford at SAR the heavy favorite but was never a factor; however, then came a big win in slop in the G1 Hopeful there Sept. 5 and then a game win in the G1 Breeders' Futurity in his first route here Oct. 8 so that Sanford was the aberration; 2 starts since earned strong Beyers (92s); sure, he's got to do even better to get on terms with Cave Rock but the gap in the figs isn't insurmountable and unlike 'Rock THIS guy has a win over this track a t this trip; Pletcher won this in 2010 with Uncle Mo, in 2012 with Shanghai Bobby.

Off a smart maiden win at SAR Aug. 27 he went into the G1 Champagne at BAQ Oct. 1, stalked the pace and made what appeared to be the winning move into the lane to grab the lead; however, he had no answer when Blazing Sevens came roaring past; still, that was a solid 2nd in just his 2nd start and first time going a mile; tacks on more ground but daddy won the Triple Crown and damsire was a G1 router so you'd expect this trip to suit; cost $775K so you know there are some expectations; tactical speed can have him forwardly placed; Cox won this here in 2020 with Essential Quality.

Debut sprint win at SAR July 24 was a beauty, and was flattered; however, he was then a bit dull in slop in the G1 Hopeful there Sept. 5; yes, he ran on for 3rd but he was never really a factor (beaten by 12 lengths); if you thought that was slop-induced you might have shied away from him in the G1 Champagne at BAQ Oct. 1 when that was run in slop (hence his 8-1 odds) but he was a different horse, bidding his time and powering home to win easily; so maybe it wasn't slop; gets more ground but daddy won th is race so that shouldn't be an issue; Brown won this in 2017 with this guy's sire, Good Magic.

It's first time on dirt so that's a hurdle, not top mention facing rivals likely tougher than anything he's seen before; at least daddy was a G1-caliber dirt route runner so the footing might not be that big an issue; still, you never really know how the y'll handle it until they handle it; also, his 2 best results came sprinting; again, the pedigree says this distance shouldn't be a bother but as you can see there are numerous obstacles (first time dirt, facing tougher, first time shipping, first time here).

Kin to terrific 3yo filly Nest looked super blasting foes in a mile stakes at MTH Aug. 27; that earned him a shot at the G1 Breeders' Futurity here Oct. 8 with stablemate Forte, but he had a lousy start, then more traffic problems turning for home and ne ver got involved; to his credit he kept to his task to pass a few and split the field to run 6th; it's most encouraging Pletcher gives him another go at this level and note tactical speed shown in first 2 starts so it's not as if he has to try and come f rom way out of it; Pletcher won this in 2010 with Uncle Mo, in 2012 with Shanghai Bobby.

Finished gamely to win the G3 Iroquois at this trip at CD Sept. 17, showing he's not only got quality but handles the distance; that was his first time beyond 7fs so that was encouraging; no reason he shouldn't handle this trip based on his pedigree and remember daddy won this race (and eventually longer) when 2yo male champ; while he came from off the pace at CD note ample speed shown in prior starts so he's not one-dimensional; still, the Beyer from that route win (79) leaves him with a lot of work t o do if he's to contend, though such improvement isn't out of reach.

Hasn't run a bad race yet, but all 3 of his prior starts have come over sprint distances; showed improved speed when leading all the way to break his maiden two back; returned just 15 days later at Aqueduct to win the Futurity going the same 6F distance; got an absolutely perfect trip, but nevertheless seemed to stall a bit once he struck the front, as 5 horses hit the wire within a length of each other; the connections seemed adamant about going here rather than the Juvenile Turf Sprint, and he certainly has pedigree to stretch out; however, there's other speed signed on and others appear to be exiting tougher prep; leaning elsewhere.

Showed an affinity for turf when he switched over to that surface in his 2nd start; arguably should have won that day at Saratoga after getting badly checked in traffic on the far turn; the connections were undeterred by the loss, stepping right up into the Nownownow, and he rewarded their faith with an upset victory; that probably wasn't among the toughest prep for this, but you had to like the way he targeted and reeled in heavy favorite Oxy more in the stretch; probably needs another step forward, but there's certainly upside here; not the worst longshot option.

Former Joseph O'Brien trainee began his career in Ireland before spending the summer with that barn's Saratoga string; ran decently in a pair of maiden events there, but just lacked a turn of foot; seemed to be much more comfortable over that European style course at Kentucky Downs when he turned the tables on Really Good; subsequently switched into the barn of Brendan Walsh and contested the Bourbon where he finished behind both Andthwinneris and nemesis Really Good; however, he had a pretty tough trip that day, off slowly before encountering traffic in the stretch; still not convinced that he's quite good enough to win a race like this, but can't fault those who are enticed at a generous price.

Has never raced beyond 6.5F, and that alone is a pretty significant hurdle; also have to wonder what kind of trip he's going to pull on the stretch-out, as he hasn't used a consistent running style; showed speed sprinting two back at Kentucky Downs, but then found himself in last early on in the Indian Summer last time; actually closed pretty well through the stretch of that race, but he was his own worst enemy, trying to lug in badly; there's some talent here, but he still has some things to figure out and this seems like an awfully tough spot for that.

Showed likable qualities right from the start when splitting rivals to win his debut at Monmouth impressively; since then, he's obviously found his home on turf, relishing the surface switch in the Pilgrim; was a little wide on the turns, but still got a pretty good trip overall; looked like he was about to get mowed down by I'm Very Busy in the stretch before gamely battling back to fend off that rival; have to respect his grit, but he was done no favors at the post position draw; it's going to be tough to work out a winning trip from this slot, especially with a horse who wants a forward stalking trip; demand a price here.

Speedy colt was pretty game in the Futurity, refusing to yield when Nagirroc came to him in mid-stretch; still wonder about the overall quality of a race where the 1st through 5th finishers were separated by a half-length; will stretch out here rather than turn back in the Juvenile Turf Sprint, which makes some sense based on how well he ran over 7F at Kentucky Downs two back; however, he was the solo leader that day, and it's going to be tough to clear from this far outside post position with plenty of other speed to his inside; prefer others. -David Aragona
