A CLOSER LOOK

12th Saratoga

Bowman's Causeway
Runner was flattered when the winner of last took a $503K stakes on 7/17 but with only a 89 Beyer; runner was crushed in the other Grade 2 try; he graduated in Florida but was not exactly flattered off his out of the money effort in the Queen's Plate as the winner that day came back and was crushed in the Alabama; he'll be a price as he breaks from the rail and he has his work cut out as some of his better efforts came against Canadian-breds.

Rattlesnake Bridge
Cut out to run and he has fired every time; has a decent turn of late foot but this is a far cry from winning a minor stakes at Monmouth by a nose even though he stumbled at the break last time; colt was an even fourth in his other Graded try but he will need somebody to be sacrificed early pushing the leaders to the limit to soften them up.

Moonshine Mullin
Versatile charge won twice in Canada and will try to turn the tables on Jim Dandy winner; connections took him to Florida this winter to try him on the main track but the races didn't fill so he was forced into the grass events; he has a right to improve after getting a feel of the track and there is no reason he will not move forward; runner has also trained on the conventional in Canada; value should be there.

Ruler On Ice

Gelding seems to move up in the off going as he proved taking the Belmont Stakes but that win did not even earn him favoritism in his next start, Coil's Haskell score; he did have to cut back last time from a mile and a half and that's not a simple chore; looking at a stalk and pounce kind of a trip, runner has moved up with the blinkers, must be left in the exotic conversation at least.

Malibu Glow

He basically went through the motions in the other Graded try and colt has a couple of things going for him; he is proven in the off going and is coming off a career best Beyer; the winner of the Spend a Buck was a lone leader and that guy came back losing a tight one in the West Virginia Derby; tough to love on top only.

Raison d'Etat

What this lightly-raced runner lacks in experience, he has pedigree in spades; he has only won once but his dam is the 12 for 20 multiple Grade 1 stakes winner and over $2.4 million earner Sightseek and sire proved his stamina taking the BC Classic; the concern is he did lose a little ground late last time at a shorter distance.

Coil

Runner had not trained solidly of late and Baffert was on the fence as to the next move but after a fine drill of :46 flat on Tuesday, he was given the go ahead for Saturday; runner had a scratched eye according to his trainer at the draw of the race but is going good right now; the trainer had this to say in the Form about sire and Travers winner, Baffert: "Point Given had more of a foundation, where this horse didn't really have the foundation. He's doing things right now because of raw talent. He's fast, he's ratable, and you can shut him off, which is good. His father used to do the same thing, he's not one dimensional"; too sharp to ignore.

Long-faced colt has a nice turn of late foot, but he was out of the money in his other Graded efforts and would love to see him find that killer instinct; his trainer sees him as a maturing runner that is going good right now; not convinced he was facing anybody in the Barbaro; the winner that day returned to run out of the money at 10-1 in the West Virginia Derby on 8/6; he'll be in the picture late if at all.

Stay Thirsty

Runner earned some redemption winning the Jim Dandy with a career best 106 Beyer when he finished strong in basically a coming out party; colt seems to be improving almost hourly, has won twice at Saratoga and he can be placed anywhere and still perform; sire loved this surface, taking the Travers and Pletcher was very happy with the move on the 21st calling it at the draw very similar in style to the move right before the Dandy; he best asset may be he can be placed anywhere and still fire; repeat well within the realm.

Shackleford

Despite stumbling early and being hooked every step of the way, this charge lost little in the neck defeat but he has had two Beyer regressions since his Preakness victory; the mile and a quarter may also be pushing the envelope but he just could not stand up in the slop 2 back; would not be shocked if rider just says come and catch me.
