CLOSER LOOK: Half-sister to multiple stakes-winning sprinter Union Jackson is a daughter of super stallion Tapit out of a Grade 1-winning half-sister to Kentucky Derby hero Always Dreaming and is beginning to live up to her gaudy pedigree; perhaps not the easiest trip when second in the Honeybee as she raced in between horses at the back behind a slow pace, was held up behind foes turning for home and still ran on well to be second along the rail; better trip against weaker field when winning the Fantasy; tracked outside, made a three-wide bid and wore them down; Beyers have inched up with each start and think she can get a good setup saving ground and rallying into a solid pace; this will be her toughest test and she must prove herself at the distance; interesting

Daughter of stakes-placed router Patti's Regal Song improved by leaps and bounds on the Beyer scale when stretched all the way out for the first time in the Gazelle; settled at the back of the pack on the backstretch, swung outside on the second turn under urging, came widest into the stretch and finished a solid second to odds-on Search Results; expecting the pace to be quicker on Friday and she might have to work out a trip weaving her way through or rallying her way around a full field from the back of the pack; she seems to be coming to hand at the right time for a sharp New York-based barn and the distance doesn't seem to be an issue at all; expecting a late run for a filly that offers some price potential.

Lovely pedigree as a daughter of Curlin out of a multiple Grade 1 winner; dropped two of her last three starts to Travel Column, but might appreciate stretching out and should get a kinder race flow than in the Fair Grounds Oaks; raced three wide and in between at the back behind a moderate pace that allowed Travel Column to get the jump, swung into the clear and couldn't make up the needed ground; nice gallop-out afterwards, but didn't like how she lugged in during the drive while hopping back to her left lead; showed what she could do when given pace to work with in the Rachel Alexandra as she broke slowly, saved ground, altered course off Travel Column's heels in midstretch and wore her down; one of the best closers in the race; contender.

Daughter of stakes-winning sprinter Indian Burn has been a consistent campaigner throughout her career and looks to be racing herself into good form as she goes third off the layoff following a score in the Gulfstream Oaks; not sure that was the strongest edition as the favorite, Con Lima, is considered a turf horse and the winning figure (83) came back tied for the slowest number since Beyers for the race were published in the DRF (Coach Rocks also earned an 83 in 2018); settled into a nice rhythm saving ground at the back, split horses three deep to get into contention, angled three wide turning for home and asserted her class; sometimes a handful behind the starting stalls; needs Beyer boost to threaten for top honors.

Half-sister to stakes-placed turf miler Los Borrachos and Grade 3-winning dirt sprinter Miss Kentucky showed off a sharp burst of speed when second to Malathaat in the Ashland, her two-turn debut; stepping up in class following a nice maiden win at Gulfstream, she broke a beat slow but recovered nicely to track the pace along the inside; she blew past the pacesetter outside the three-sixteenths pole in the hope of breaking the race wide open and was just run down late; this lightly-raced filly has ability and a good amount of upside potential; she has the tactical speed to sit just off the expected solid pace and figures in the thick of things when the real running beings; must prove her mettle at this distance; intriguing at the morning line price.

Half-sister to multiple Grade 1-placed router Neolithic begin her ascent to the top tier of this crop by overcoming trouble to win the Golden Rod here last year; pinched at the start, she saved ground at the back, was blocked in upper stretch, altered course sharply to the far outside and still got there; although beaten by Clairiere in the Rachel Alexandra, she likely ran equally as well; worked hard chasing a hot pace before assuming command; she tried but was run down late; took advantage of an easier pace scenario to win the Fair Grounds Oaks; perched just off the pacesetter before taking command at will; her tactical speed is a tremendous asset, but it will be interesting to see if she can carry it nine furlongs if chasing a hot pace; logical.

She has the pedigree to last this demanding distance as a daughter of Empire Maker out of a full sister to top sire Malibu Moon, but she failed to break through in three Oaks prep races in Southern California; couldn't really find an excuse for her defeat in the four-horse Santa Anita Oaks as she set reasonable fractions only to let the eventual winner through on her inside on the backstretch; failed to kick on with the top two in the stretch; perhaps she's more effective with a target or two in front of her and will likely let the pace go while sitting in a stalking position; prefer others.

She's a stakes winner over this course and ran quite well behind Travel Column and Clairiere in the Golden Rod Stakes in the fall; forgiving handicappers will use the mud as an excuse for her seasonal debut in the Martha Washington and will note that she attempted to rally from last in a slow-paced race in the Honeybee; gave a solid performance in the Fantasy en route to her career-best Beyer; pinched back going under the wire the first time, she uncorked a three-wide far turn bid to get to even terms with Pauline's Pearl before being rebuffed; a bit concerned about the extra distance; leaning elsewhere.

By Curlin out of Grade 1 winner Dreaming of Julia, this seven-figure yearling purchase didn't disappoint in her long-awaited seasonal debut in the Ashland; Pass the Champagne got the jump on her turning into the short stretch, but this powerfully-built filly charged her down once she switched leads; Beyers have improved with each start and she showed that nine furlongs was no obstacle when grabbing the Demoiselle over sloppy going that she might not have relished; should get a good pace to attack and seems to have most of the boxes ticked; factor.

Jon Court gave this tactical filly some wonderful rides; settled in between horses at the back behind a solid pace in the Martha Washington, made a four-wide bid on the second turn and drew away over that wet track; realized there wasn't any pace entered in the Honeybee and secured a good forward position prompting slow splits before sprinting home over Pauline's Pearl; hung back in the Ashland, rode Malathaat's cover on the second turn, swung five wide into the stretch and couldn't finish with the winner's zest; needs Beyer improvement in order to threaten for top honors; others entice more.

Daughter of Grade 3-placed sprinter Co Cola has passed every test thus far and paired up big 92 Beyers coming into the Oaks; she has excellent early speed and figures to be forwardly-placed from the get-go although it seems likely she'll push faster fractions than she's ever faced; looked good winning the Gazelle at this distance as she relaxed just off the hip off second choice Always Late (finished fifth), took over at will on the second bend and kept going while failing to change leads; won't be surprised if she's in control when the field turns for home; she's a strong factor, but demand value as this will be her toughest challenge from a pace and class standpoint.

Stakes-winning sprinter earned a pair of graded placings in her last two starts but has yet to reach 80 on the Beyer scale; stalked three wide on the backstretch of the Gulfstream Park Oaks, swung five wide into the stretch and couldn't accelerate with the likes of Crazy Beautiful; the jury is still out as to whether she is more effective at shorter distances, and she'll have to step her her speed figures if she is to upset this tough group.

Her best race to date came at this distance although she most widely got the sloppy going; prompted the pace outside in that Demoiselle, took over a half mile out and almost fended off Malathaat's stretch bid; ran right into a traffic jam on the turn in the Davona Dale, but really didn't finish with much interest once clear; split horses exiting the backstretch of the Gulfstream Park Oaks and moved sweetly past favored Con Lima only to be run down by Crazy Beautiful; must overcome a difficult outside post. --Dan Illman
