Sweep's Analysis

Brian's Time 2—Risen Star 3—Winning Colors

This year's renewal of the Belmont Stakes has more than the usual drama that surrounds the Triple Crown series. BRIAN'S TIME appears to be coming up to the Belmont ready for the best race of his career. Wearing blinkers for the first time, the John Veitch-trained colt outfinished Kentucky Derby winner WINNING COLORS for second in the Preakness. It appears as if that change of equipment will keep the son of Roberto close enough to the leaders and that he will outfinish them in the final quarter. RISEN STAR, the Preakness winner, missed some training for this grueling event as a result of a slight injury, but the consistent son of Secretariat looms the one to beat on his best race. WINNING COLORS seeks to become the first filly since 1905 to win the Belmont Stakes. The brilliant daughter of Caro is clearly capable of leading all the way if not pressed for the advantage, but a driving finish in the Derby and an extremely tough race in the Preakness may have taken away the reserve that is needed to win here. The Canadianbred GRANACUS should receive support among those looking for an upset winner of this event. He had excuses in the Derby and possesses enough late run to be in the picture if things go his way. CEFIS has been chasing the top ones and is best recommended by his trainer, Woody Stephens, who has an outstanding record in this event.
