CLOSER LOOK Would expect this miss to have the stalking duties of the Cox runners; her gameness was unveiled last time and note she was sent along in her other local start, wilted, but was nearly 6 lengths clear of the nearest rival; she has to do something today she never has done and that's put wins together and we really don't know for sure how much the all-out win last time may have taken out of her; note she was also beaten over 8 in her other Grade 1 appears; needs very best.

CLOSER LOOK It took time for this miss to figure it out but the light sure is on and shining brightly now; if you draw a line through her sprint efforts, the form improves; the place horse in the maiden breaker has not raced back but the show horse 2/14 graduated next out in an MSW with a 72 Beyer; the place horse in last was clear by daylight and versatility could be this filly's best asset; keying off the drill on the 21st, youngster looks very comfortable with this surface; it seems she will still likely need the race of her life to get there.

CLOSER LOOK Toss this one's local debut; she was hung out in post 12 that day and that was that; otherwise, she gets an A for consistency; like fact she has natural speed but can sit just off the pace and perform; with the amount of speed in here, she may have to rate a bit; love the spacing of the drills coming to this race and she did graduate off the layoff too; the best of 52 spin on the 21st screams off the canvas and nothing wrong with the work a week ago; the concern is that this race is a far cry from beating 5 foes in a $50K optional event.

CLOSER LOOK Sometimes this game, like life, is about confidence; this miss was dull in her first three tries and then she woke up in the career soft spot and confidence builder; toss the turf races and this form looks a bit better; fans dismissed her in the 2/18 race and then again in her Graded debut last time; the $50K optional win did come back okay; the place horse that day beat the $50K optional rivals and then was third beaten over 5; the show horse 2/18 earned an 86 Beyer next out beating a $75K optional field; Amoss tightened the screws a bit with the clever move on the 11th and now she has the best of 43 bullet locked and loaded; this miss does not have to be 7 lengths off the pace this time; far too sharp to ignore.

CLOSER LOOK This miss has been as consistent as the day is long; she showed ability from Day One and she was forced to check the only time she did not run in the trifecta; youngster has some semblance of speed but she seems comfortable setting and making the one run; like the way she was getting to the winner last time but she has lacked the ability to close the deal this year.

CLOSER LOOK

The 29% trainer this year Cox seems to have this race surrounded and this miss looks like the long-fused insurance policy; this conditioner is 2 for 7 the last 5 years with sprint to route runners in a Graded race with a median payoff of over $16; she was beaten by a promising horse in last as that runner cost $240K and is now 2 for 2; Ortiz got a chance to gauge the talent level last time and there seems to be plenty of zip in here to help promote the needed kick; she could be a nice runner to use in the bottom half of the gimmicks and then hope the leaders hit the proverbial brick wall.

First off, know this; that move on the 21st was stellar considering the same gate time was posted by Abel Tasman, who has won multiple Grade 1s, was 2nd a half in the BC Distance, has earned nearly 2 million and won this very fixture last year; this looks like a case of guilt by association as this miss chased the monster Mendelssohn in Dubai last time; the horse she beat in the UAE Oaks was tasting defeat for the first time and note the place horse in the last win was over 4 lengths clear; this miss also has every right to advance this distance and to have a stellar career as if you go deep in her bloodlines one will find Concern, who took the BC Classic and won over $3 million; interesting interloper.

She didn't trick any fans on Halloween as the prohibitive chalk and she was game as can be in the Gulfstream opener; like fact she has a couple of local drills to draw from and she seemed to show a bit more energy in the move a week ago; Borel knows this strip as well as any human alive and the fact this miss won the debut and the other return effort is a plus; she still has to invent a way to turn the tables on some familiar foes.

She goes first-time blinkers today; McLaughlin is 18% going first-time blinkers in the last 5 years and one for 3 in that time frame in a Graded stakes with one runner being beaten three quarters of a length; only serious horses are in the exacta in 8 of 9 and she had a valid excuse she missed when steadied in her Grade 2 debut; she handles any kind of surface and that could really come into play today as the extended forecast looks very wet; like fact she has won at a number of different venues but there may be some stamina concerns; her top sibling Senna did win routing but in that one's lone try at a mile and an eighth the runner was dead last and beaten nearly 15 lengths; look for the pilot to be aggressive sending hard and then hope for the best.

CLOSER LOOK Find a pair of noses out there and this miss is unbeaten; not many horses can graduate vs. winners but this miss pulled it off in a Grade 2; she got an ideal trip winning her second start of the year and then showed a new wrinkle when she won from left field in the SA Oaks; this miss gets her class from her dam that won 8 times, banked over $300K and took a Grade 3; no-nonsense, low-key trainer Spawr may not be a household name in the East but he has been one of the best trainers on the West Coast for decades, knows what to do with a good horse, and he did not ship here for the frequent flyer miles.

CLOSER LOOK Racer is basically out to prove her 23-1 win here last year was no fluke; she does like this layout and you can build in an excuse that she needed the Ashland; the Beyer in the last win doesn't really get the heart beating and she was just no match for the winner last time; her connections would love to see her have the kind of career her top sibling Texas Chrome put forth; that runner won a number of stakes including a pair of Grade 3s on way to millionaire status; this miss may need a glory days run.

CLOSER LOOK Her grit was on display for all to see in the maiden breaker but don't be oversold by the margin of victory on Feb. 22 as it was slop aided; the wire came a head too soon in the Fair Grounds Oaks but this miss really had no excuse against the arch rival on the direct outside last time; she has had a few problems breaking and that is a concern and she had the bad experience in her other local effort; a race could be the ceiling.

CLOSER LOOK There was a question whether she could handle dirt but she put those questions to bed taking the $80K Rags to Riches; in her first graded race she did everything but get unsaddled in the neck win and has been perfect since; her versatility could be her best asset as she showed she could overcome adversity after the horrible start in the 2018 opener; on top of that she has the benefit of local success; sure, she gets no break as far as the posts are concerned and there are others in here with designs on the lead; if Geroux can invent a trip from the marooned slot, the rest could be looking at minor awards.
