Dave in Dixie
 Colt enters this fresh which would normally be an advantage in this third leg of the Triple Crown, but he doesn't catch one runner who competed in both the Derby and Preakness today; he's done his damage over synthetic surfaces out West and his Illinois Derby effort first time over dirt was pretty poor; new pilot was criticized for moving Kentucky Derby winner Mine That Bird too soon in this heat last year, but he's certainly capable; though he's been working well for a sharp outfit since leaving his Hollywood base he's got something to prove over this type of footing.

Spangled Star
 Rides a Beyer upswing into the toughest test of his career and lures one of the better riders in the country; maybe he's set to take a step forward off the improved try in his stakes debut for an outfit that boasts terrific numbers second off the break and the runner who beat him just over 4 lengths in that heat returned to take a Monmouth stake with a 95 Beyer a couple of weeks back; gets a class test at 12 panels after never stepping past 8.5 furlongs in his 8 race career.

Uptowncharlybrown
 This guy has given a pretty good account of himself in each of his 5 career starts and now he'll make his first start for a barn that is no stranger to the big stage, having won this race in 2006 with Jazz; he's fresh off a pretty good late running, troubled try over synthetic in the Lexington and now they'll remove the hood which has lately been successful for their runners; he's yet to win past 7 panels which is a concern and his pedigree doesn't suggest he'll prosper going this far, but he is lightly raced and talented so it wouldn't be a surprise if he was set to run a big one here.

Make Music for Me
 Made a nice run for fourth in the sloppy Kentucky Derby while stepping on a traditional dirt surface for the initial time and the effort suggested he'll appreciate today's added real estate; he's certainly been better in blinkers, worked well earlier in the week here and skipping the Preakness should benefit him; he may again get some moisture in the track which would be another plus; consider.

He's the other G1 SW in here, but he did it over a synthetic surface and he hasn't run very well on dirt; had trouble in the Kentucky Derby and maybe he didn't appreciate the sloppy going, either, but he looks to have his work cut out for him on footing over which he's unproven.

Stay Put
Rolled home over 4 rivals in the slow paced, sloppy opener on Kentucky Derby day after getting involved too late in his 2 G2 FG tries; his running style suggests he'll love the added ground of this heat, but at this trip it's tough to win from where he prefers to settle early and don't know that he's going to get a beneficial pace setup with this tougher bunch.

First Dude
Jumped up with an impressive gritty effort on the front end in the Preakness, earning a Beyer that was quite a bit better than anything he's run; he was beaten by one of today's foes in each of his 3 prior starts and he returns just 3 weeks off the big runner up try so he could ride to regress; he looms the main speed of this heat, however, and unless a rival is taken out of his game this colt figures to be able to set up shop on the front end; contender should take them as far as he can go.

Interactif
Pletcher runner has been working well for his return from nearly 2 months on the bench following his beaten chalk run in Kaeneland's Blue Grass; he hasn't been on dirt since last summer at the Spa, but he's proven he has some class and his pedigree says he should handle the footing without much difficulty, especially if he gets some moisture in the ground; having run well off works in the past and in possession of some positional speed, he's quite interesting at a price.

Fly Down

Got back on track in the sharp Dwyer score at one turn 4 weeks ago while offering a move that has often proven decisive at this trip; he worked at his Saratoga base as if the effort took little out of him and his paternal grandsire won this race in 1992 so the added ground should agree with him; Lezcano opts to side with Zito's other runner, Ice Box, in here, but that choice was pretty much a no brainer; may prove the biggest threat to his uncoupled mate.

Zito's second runner in here is one of just 2 G1 winners in here and the only one to do so on dirt; much has been made of his nightmare trip in the Kentucky Derby when he finished full of run for second money, but he's a runner who has lately preferred to take back early and make his run which is not usually a good style to employ at this trip; Lezcano stays here, he's working like he benefited from skipping the Preakness and the added ground figures to pose him little problem; he looks to be the one they'll have to hold off, but as the morning line chalk he's probably worth trying to beat.

Disappointed at odds on in the tough trip Dwyer while making his first start over the local main track; he's twice been G2 SP at 9 panels and he gets a rider switch for this, but he's yet to run very fast; maybe a clean run helps him get involved for a share of the pot, but he'll need to move forward in order to factor for the big prize.

Addition of the hood made him look like a new animal at Lone Star, but he didn't beat very much there after getting a solid pace in front of him; the lone time he faced a runner of this caliber he finished well behind Ice Box in the Florida Derby; successful Preakness trainer/jockey combo teams up again with this improved gelding and he did work well at his Santa Anita base for this class test.
