Farda Amiga

Has made just one start on the main oval and came within a nostril of third and just a couple lengths from Santa Anita Oaks-G1 winner You in her rally from last-place; habitually a come-from-the clouds type, you have to like her work tab at Hollywood since she faced You, Habibti and Ile De France; she should find the extra sixteenth of a mile to her liking as well as the long stretch of the Twin Spires; short on seasoning but long on talent, we can expect her to be moving fastest of all at the wire, serious closer.

Habibti

Has been the bridesmaid to You in both the SA Oaks-G1 and Las Virgenes-G1 this year and connections hope the extra sixteenth of this contest may give her enough ground to even the score of their rivalry since the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies, where she stubbed her toe at the start and lost all chance; competes in her sixth consecutive G1 contest and has been on the Churchill grounds long enough to post two strong drills for this for Baffert; expect the early fractions to be snappy with more than a handful of front-end/stalkers in the lineup, so if she can deliver her best punch, we'll see her moving as a team with Farda Amiga down the lane; stretch threat.

Take The Cake

Notched a career-high Beyer as she chased home Take Charge Lady in the Ashland-G1 at Keeneland last time out; has taken her game to a different level around two turns and her eye-catching 5f bullet in :59.20 since her last start underlines her readiness for this as well as her affinity for the CD oval, where she cleared the N1X condition last fall; would be a surprise in the winner's circle, but Nafzger is a master of prepping for the main event and this filly seems to be peaking at the right time; double-digit odds worth a play today and use in exotics.

You

Back-to-back winner of the SA Oaks-G1 and Las Virgenes S-G1 at the expense of Habibti, this filly has done little wrong in her career with the BC Juvenile Fillies-G1 the only occasion she wasn't first or second; should find an ideal spot behind probable pacemaking fave Take Charge Lady and UAE Oaks winner Imperial Gesture until Bailey gives her the nudge; has posted two strong 6f moves over the local strip, where she kicked off her juvenile campaign last year; don't know if this extra sixteenth is ideal for her, but her class and determination can make up for that; in the mix.

Ms Brookski

Well-seasoned filly makes her first start for new trainer O'Callaghan as she makes the 14th start of her career; seems to have taken to the CD surface well as her snappy works indicate; much has been made of her unorthodox cross-firing tendencies, but connections say she feels smooth a silk underneath, so why do we care that her action is less than textbook perfect as she's earned over $325K her way; one of just two to have negotiated the 1 1/8 mile distance of the Oaks, she seems to need a fast track to be at her best; will need her A-race and then some to get the job done today in her first G1 appearance.

Imperial Gesture

Romped home in the United Arab Emirates Oaks last time out and has gotten better with each start since her runner-up finish in the BC Juvenile Fillies-G1 last year; one of few in here to have enough early zip to keep Take Charge Lady from stealing, expect this filly to prove very, very tough to deny with that 1 1/8 mile race underlining her fitness and quality; Beyers and Timeform ratings imply that we haven't seen her best yet; impressed in her local spin around the CD strip on Tuesday and she gets the nod if lady luck gives her a clean trip on Friday.

Split the field in Turfway's Bourbonette Stakes in late March and seems to be in for a tough tussle as she tackles G1 foes for the first time; her best Beyer figs have been posted around one turn and while she did graduate at this oval last year when haltered by her present connections, it's a long way from the claiming box to crossing the wire first in the Ky Oaks; seems up against it.

Take Charge Lady

Has done nothing wrong this year as she's made short work of her rivals at Fair Grounds and Keeneland; quick-starter has been untouchable from the start over fast and sloppy tracks and is the deserving favorite; concern that she may be pressed on the pace by Imperial Gesture, You and perhaps Ile De France; believe she's tons better now than she was in the BC Juvenile Fillies where she finished behind Imperial Gesture and expect that she's up to the challenge; don't know that she'll get away with a pokey half-mile in :47 but if she does it's all over.

Ile De France

Another who is short on experience but long on talent, this daughter of multiple SW Cara Rafaela, who was third in the Ky Oaks herself, has been working like a champ in California and she displayed considerable quality in that pace-pressing third-place finish to more seasoned rivals You and Habibi in the SA Oaks-G1; don't particularly like this outside post, but she's a quick enough starter that expect Solis can get her a position into the first turn that doesn't force her to lose much ground; expect another huge try, but don't think you'll get 55-1 as Mandella doesn't usually come east without a loaded gun; one of several in here who we probably haven't seen the best from yet; upset shot.
