A CLOSER LOOK

Dubai World Cup

Even Top

Looked good working 5 furlongs over sand track March 25; trainer expects classy colt to show at least some speed and race into 3rd or 4th position in early running; severe quarter crack excuses poor effort in Epsom Derby last June; described by trainer as "early-season" horse who does not require prep race; trackside buzz is that connections would be ecstatic with 3rd-place finish, happy with 4th, and willing to return to grass without embarrassment with midpack finish; not likely to threaten.

Singspiel

Final times of 2 recent wins at a mile and a half are nearly 10 seconds apart, which suggests this theory about grass specialist - he'll run on a bog, or concrete; could be he'll run on dirt, too; was for sale last fall but passed up by top American connections; has been described as "crabby-going" horse who may not like the hard, fast, sand track; Bailey was 3rd choice as rider (behind Dettori and Stevens), odd that connections of turf champion must go 3/4 deep to find a jockey; considered by many British observers as Europe's main hope; arrived at Nad Al Sheba late Jan., acclimated and ready to roll.

Formal Gold

Good horse rode inside speed bias to victory in Donn Handicap, but no easy leads projected here against Siphon and Key of Luck; was a tired horse running in Santa Anita Handicap; runner-up last year to Devil's Honor and Dramatic Gold, either of whom would be longshots in this field; shipped 3 times this month - Florida to California; back to Florida; Florida to Dubai seemed a tired horse when arrived in Dubai, but turned corner March 24 in improved physical appearance and perky attitude; good, fast horse whose class/form may not be as strong as it appears; his only graded stakes win was under ideal circumstances; remains question mark at a mile and a quarter.

All systems were go for assault on Nad Al Sheba, but top-class Brit wanted no part of sand track in lone prep over the surface 4 weeks ago; European form would give him a shot, but that form is out the window in wake of last-place, 11-length defeat on this track; subsequent works have given no reason to expect improvement, and London bookmakers offer little respect, either - hometown odds are 33-1 or higher; physically the least impressive runner in the field; visual analysis: lightly made chestnut simply does not look the part of a mile and a quarter, main-track threat.

The rage of Nad Al Sheba after series of blistering workouts over this sand track; mile drill March 22 in 1:35 2/5 indicates peak condition; trainer John Gosden developed Bates Motel into champion handicap runner on dirt in U.S. in '83; off from Sept. '95 to Oct. '96 with cracked cannon bone, but returned with pair of classy wins; Gosden convinced horse has never been better, and obviously in love with the surface; only question is whether he will like it when getting sand kicked into his face; Group 1 winner in only 3rd start of his career, and appears to be headed for his best season yet at age 5; may have more improvement in him, and looms the most likely upsetter in the field; looks terrific physically, wouldn't let him slip away at a price.

European veteran runs well fresh, and comes from barn whose horses often outperform their odds in major races; trainer prepared Bold Arrangement for runner-up finish in '86 Kentucky Derby, and finished 2nd in '90 English Derby with 500-1 shot Terimon; 5yo hasn't made a positive or negative physical impression here, though trainer Brittain seems happy with development; difficult horse to interpret on class, and has never raced on dirt or sand; tough one to figure, worth a longshot look to hit the board.

Richest mare in racing history gets reality check after 10 consecutive main-track wins in Japan; meets tougher competition now (best races in Japan are on grass); strong-looking mare hasn't lost anything in transit, though reports of hoof problems remain unconfirmed from secretive quarantine barn where news is kept bottled; gut feeling from trackside is that this gal gets outrun gate to wire, though Japan representative Lively Mount split field in last year's Dubai World Cup.

Rugged gelding from Down Under has emerged as the top horse in leading Aussie trainer Gai Waterhouse's barn; first one on Nad Al Sheba track each morning rain or shine, and looks as good now as when he left Australia, according to trainer; also alert and bright in mornings; wet, heavy racing strip won't help veteran, whose best distance is something less than 10 furlongs - he lost the lead in late stages last out in Australian Cup; sand is a new surface for grass specialist, described as horse with tremendous burst of late speed; that's the winning style on grass, but successful dirt horses generally require speed throughout, he may lack that quality; trainer skipping this $4 million race to attend major race day in Australia instead.

Siphon

Deserving favorite and the one to catch; figures to control pace, and possibly difficult to down if connections of Key of Luck and Formal Gold remain true to promise of rating behind pacesetter; acclimated well to Nad Al Sheba, and looks like a relaxed, happy horse in the mornings; was drawing away late in Santa Anita Handicap, and everything he's done since suggests he has held his form; winner 6 of last 7 races now competing on track locals say is fair to all running styles; he's the only Grade 1, mile and a quarter dirt horse in this lineup who is in form - looks like the race was written for him; on paper, he's gone.

Kammtarra

Perhaps the most overrated horse in field, having never started in a group stakes race; half-brother to European superstar Lamtara; earned way into race with pair of wins on this track including win over Tamhid, who had won 3 straight before; Dettori riding this colt not out of choice, but on instructions from owner Sheikh Maktoum Saeed bin Maktoum (Dettori likely would rather ride Singspiel or Fiemsenfirth); respect pedigree and impressive last-out win over racetrack, but improved colt comes up way short on class; Dettori quotes after last race: "(Kammtarra) was laboring hard the final one and a half furlongs."

Sandpit

Travelled all over the world without a fuss, but as of mid-week, trip to Dubai still left him slightly unsettled according to trainer; big, strong, tough chestnut gallops hard; picked up pieces for runner-up finish last out in first start on dirt, but wonder how good it really was - third-place finisher Gentlemen bled, also-rans Formal Gold, Martin, Editor's Note did not fire; robust, classy Sandpit deserves respect, but non-acclimation to Dubai and nagging question of new surface make him a question mark to duplicate his past success.

Key of Luck

The horse most likely to keep Siphon honest up front, but even trainer questions whether he can get a mile and a quarter off abbreviated comeback pattern; fractured cannon bone after Pimlico Special, which explains 10-month layoff; returned exhausted from March 9 prep, but subsequent workouts have been outstanding, including blazing five-furlong move March 25 in 1:00 1/5 at slow training center; classy sort ran faster here last year than Cigar, but trainer said horse needs one more prep to be all the way back; speed to get the 2-hole trip behind pacesetter, and would inherit lead should pacesetter falter; time ran out before McLaughlin could get him ready for this, but he should be dynamite when he shows up next out in a race in the U.S.
