A CLOSER LOOK
1st. Oak Tree at SA

Coronet of a Baron
Closed gamely to win a blanket finish last month and in his only try at seven-eighths, lost to the very talented Midshipman, might be hindered by the rail at this distance and therefore cannot be given the top vote.

Smart Bid
Respectable work tab during the last few weeks but he still seems destined for a career on the turf; no visible excuse when losing in the G3 Sham and today's distance may not suit, on the plus side, he does revert to winning pilot Rose.

M One Rifle
The likely favorite has never run a bad race and was brave in defeat a month ago despite drifting out a bit during the critical stages; the winner of that race Dancing in Silks is now 6 for 12 lifetime; sizzling workout on 10/29; the one to beat but false odds assured.

All Saint

Ignore the last run on the turf; he has a perfect local record on the main and the grey turned in an exceptionally sharp work at his Fairplex headquarters recently; may be worth inclusion since betting value is certain.

Supreme Summit

Obvious true contender based on dead game try behind M One Rifle in September; subsequent run featured a very wide trip behind the high-quality sprinter Gayego; drops 5 pounds from that attempt and may secure an easier journey today.

Major Rock Star

A long vacation followed the first victory under these silks back in February; steady work regimen for the return with a focus on the blazing a.m. move on 10/24; has rated to victory before and may be able to make first run on the pacesetter; curious possibility.

Viscount

Excellent drill here on 11/1; turns back from a decisive route victory and appears to be maturing at the right time; sired by Breeders' Cup Sprint winner Orientate, he seems more than capable of handling the transition in distance and he draws favorable slot; the selection.

Dave's Pacemaker

Ran his heart out last time and should prove to be a wise claim; despite jumping way up the hierarchy today, note the fine half-mile drill on 10/31; gets a true test for character and draws ideal, overseeing slot.

A CLOSER LOOK
2nd Oak Tree at SA

Zip Quik
NY bred is ambitiously placed for his grass debut; sire is 16-for-113 with turf-debut runners; dam never tried grass; she produced 1 minor turf winner from 3 who tried; middle moved in latest key race when taking on Del Mar Grade 1 sprinters; the winner of last repeated with a Grade 1 win (89 Beyer) while the 7th and 9th-place finishers also scored next time out (75-70 Beyers); is winless since his synthetic sprint score at Hollywood Park; clearly would be a shocker against a field of established grass runners.

Viscount Nelson
1st import saved his best for last when popping a new Racing Post Rating career Top in latest; is in with his lightest weight assignment ever for this; sire earned 2M on grass and finished 2nd in the Breeders' Cup Classic; is out of a 527K grass dam who produced 488K grasser Horatio Nelson and 354K turfer Red Rock Canyon; some strong angles for a huge effort; the main rival.

Codoy
Huge late run vs. Interactif at 57-1 odds in latest from a new post position on soft Kentucky green; moves inside for this, which should help the cause to save ground but will he ultimately need more distance than 1 Mile to get up in time? clearly has never been better but have mixed feelings shortening up for this.

Pounded
Breakthru effort in latest when coming off the maiden win to be Group 1 placed in near upset fashion in France; the trainer won this event last year; has the speed to be a major player from bell to finish receiving a weight break for this; will be a major player if can only repeat most recent race; looms a logical contender for win honors.

Gallant Gent
Grass debut today against proven turf runners makes him an outsider; sire is 6-for-45 with turf-debut runners; he is out of a 117K grass dam who was 5-for-17 on grass; only 1 of her 5 other starters even tried grass (0-for-1); lacked the needed kick to capture the Norfolk traveling on a synthetic surface locally; would be a complete surprise.

Awesome Act

Troubled trip when last seen in England seemingly over-matched when making his 1st start off the October graduation triumph; today marks his 3rd start in 37 days while shipping across country off a less than stellar effort; others appeal more.

Bridgetown

Displayed big speed in latest win showing great determination to score in a ridden-out Woodbine tally; the pace may be lightning fast here which could hurt his chances of taking these all the way; off latest sharp effort view as an exotics possibility trying to hang on in deep stretch.

King Ledley

Commenced career with an Irish March maiden victory then has been often close in his next 7 defeats; racing style suggests he should appreciate the added distance of this event however some of his European rivals appeal a lot more.

Kera's Kitten

Has performed very well on soft turf in first 2 starts but gets tested on the very firm Santa Anita sod today; is another who likes to be forwardly placed in a race packed with speedsters; sire earned 2M on the turf; know him early unsure about late.

Becky's Kitten

Late runner should benefit from all the inside speed of this event; been a new horse since placed on the weeds 2 starts ago at Saratoga; his sire earned 2M on the turf; likely won't be able to save any ground from way out here but should be flying in deep stretch; will be using on deep exotic tickets.

Interactif
 Very impressive in his last 2 starts displaying versatility by winning on soft and firm sod; exits a field-best Beyer speed figure and closer benefits today in a race loaded with early speed; he does have some tactical speed in his game as evidenced by his debut win so maybe he doesn't have to be so far back early?; the only drawback is the wide post position draw; many arrows point to the pick.

A CLOSER LOOK 3rd Oak Tree at SA

Noble Court

Chased the sensational Zensational in two straight Grade 1's on the main track at Hollywood and Del Mar and if he transforms that kind of form to turf he could win this; tough post, 1 for 26 at the current meet, but he's versatile and Rosario should be able to work out a trip; he also won the only time he ran over this tricky course; he runs well fresh and from the looks of his sharp works Sadler has him primed for a big effort; he is the least experienced horse on the lawn but he still looks like a serious contender.

Silver Timber

He's been on quite a roll since being claimed for $25,000 by Brown on April 4; the horse he beat in the Grade 3 Jaipur came back to win a restricted stakes at Laurel; solid effort behind Cannonball in his next start and then he beat an average field in the Grade 3 Woodford; he has shown he can travel and now he'll get a real test going down the hill where he'll make a right hand turn and then cross over the main track while turning left; he has good tactical speed and he should get a nice trip from not too far off the pace; others look more attractive but he's certainly capable of winning what looks like a wide open event.

California Flag

The old adage pace makes the race will certainly come into effect here; he is clearly the speed of the speed and it looks like the only horse that can keep him honest is Canadian Ballet; he owns the track record for the course and he couldn't be doing any better with three straight wins, the latest over this course; can't see them pushing him through a 20 and change first quarter like they did in last year's Turf Sprint and if Garcia elects to try and stalk with Canadian Ballet, he's going to be gone; clearly the one to beat.

Lord Shanakill

Company lines are full of European stars and the horse that won his latest race is a big threat to win the Classic; the last time he ran in a sprint he lost by a nose in the Group 1 Dewhurst Stakes but he finished in front of Rip Van Winkle and Delegator, who figures to be a major player in the Mile; he reportedly came back lame behind in his last start but from the looks of his solid set of works here he appears to be in excellent shape; his new trainer also knows how to win Breeders' Cup races, -4 in 2003 at this track - and he can certainly have them ready to go coming off of this type of layoff; price could be right so we'll make him a warm pick over California Flag;

Get Funky

Nothing wrong with his solid second behind California Flag in the Grade 3 Morvich and it's encouraging to see Bejarano take the call from Sadler - 35 percent together over the past couple of years; sharp 6-furlong in 1:10.60 Oct. 31 could mean he's ready for another big effort; the big problem is that his last win was over a year ago and he's had plenty of chances; he has also regressed each time he has posted a Beyer Speed Figure that jumped up from his previous race; looking elsewhere.

Cannonball

Just missed in the Group 1 Golden Jubilee Stakes at Ascot and then beat Star Timber in a Ny-bred stakes at Saratoga; obviously he doesn't need to take his track with him and he should be able to handle the tricky course here; Ward loves him - "I've never had a horse training better than this horse right now. He's going to run the race of his life." - horse that beat him at Ascot has run up the track in four straight races; third place finisher placed in a Group 3 and Group 1 in his next two starts; no surprise if he's good enough.

Gotta Have Her

Horses for courses gets over used a lot but not when you're talking about this particular trip; this gal is undefeated in four tries going down the hill including a couple of Grade 3's so she obviously loves it here; latest was a beauty as she overcame early trouble to score a decisive win in the Grade 3 Senator Ken Maddy Oct. 17 and she posted a career best Beyer Speed Figure; regression possible off of her career best and she will be facing males for the first time; others look more attractive.

Square Eddie
Won a maiden race on turf across the pond but since then he's raced exclusively on synthetic surfaces; was considered a Kentucky Derby contender but got injured when he finished second in the San Rafael in Jan. and then was turned out after running a huge race in the Lexington at Keenland in April; he's basically starting over and it is possible he'll move forward off his dull effort in the Grade 1 Ancient Title; the move to turf shouldn't be a problem but he'll need to improve quite a bit to make any impact today.

Toss her race over Tapeta at Presque Isle Downs against Informed Decision and you are looking at a horse that has won 7 straight races over different distances on grass; she won't be anywhere near the pace here and she is going to need help from Canadian Ballet if she's going to make a late impact; she has also posted her best Beyer Speed Figures over soft courses; she is facing males for the first time but it's hard not to love a horse that is on this kind of roll; barn wins races at a high percentage but we like her better underneath than on top; consider for the exotics.

Canadian Ballet
It looks like Rice and Garcia hold the key to the race; if they elect to let Canadian Ballet try and run with California Flag right from the start she's probably going to get tired and possibly California Flag too; if they try and sit just off of him, California Flag is going to be very tough to catch; tough call, all we know is this is a turf sprint and her trainer is as good as there is when it comes to sprints over the lawn on the east coast; this appears to be a pretty tough spot for this filly, however.

El Gato Malo
Broke his maiden in his debut at Hollywood Park in 2007 going 6-furlongs and he also finished fourth in an $80,000 optional race at Hollywood in 2008; other than that he's gone around two-turns his whole career; only a couple of starts on grass and the last time he tried it he won a 1 1/16 miles $100,000 optional race at Del Mar in Sept; just an average effort in his latest race over the main track and this seems like an odd spot for him to show up in; passing.

Strike the Deal
Seems to have turned things around with the rider switch to Fallon and he comes into this off of two straight sprint wins in Great Britain; his win in the Group 3 Dubai Duty Free was elevated when the horse he beat came back to win a Group 1 sprint at Longchamp; anyone landing here will have to hope he leaves there running as he has a tendency to miss the start; looks pretty live at what could be a decent price.

Will lightning strike twice? probably not; last year's winner comes into this off of three dull efforts in a row and at least in his race leading up to his shocking win last year he showed good speed in the Morvich; have a strong feeling the pace won't be as quick today and there are quite a few horses that would take advantage of the situation if they do get out of control up front; sharp work on Nov. 3 could be a sign he's coming up to a big race but we're still going to pass.

Helped spice up the tri when he made a late run to finish third in the Grade 1 Ancient Title; goes back to turf for this and Mitchell puts up impressive numbers when he moves them from a synthetic surface to turf; he almost caught California Flag in his previous start and it appears the oldest horse in the field has never been better; he has enough speed to get a good position - he actually has the inside post for the first turn; no surprise Rosario abandons him to ride Noble Court but who is going to complain with Gomez taking over; surprise package?

Another one that would have to run the race of his career to make just a small impact; deep closer tried stakes horses for the first time in the Morvich and beat two; he did get off a bit slow, nonetheless, he went into the race with conditions and he just doesn't appear to be fast enough to keep up with seasoned stakes winners at this point in his career; hard to see it.

Fatal Bullet
Game score in the Phoenix when last seen, duelling for the lead from the start and staving off the closers, including Capt. Candyman Can, but he's not a pure, one-dimensional speed; he can rate a bit, as he showed in a couple of his wins last year, and he held very well for the place in this race last year after pressing First Defence early on; that rival finished last, which tells you how well this gelding ran; his works this fall have been superb, including that last one, following the Phoenix win; any kind of slow start from the rail for Zensational and this gelding's stock goes through the roof.

Zensational
ML favorite looks solid but draws the fence, which is no bargain; in fact, trainer Bob Baffert said "I didn't want the rail," after the draw; to his immediate right are his main pace foes but given an alert break he does seem faster than those rivals; speed, Beyers, proven affinity for this strip and Hall of Fame connections make him an easy horse to like but a short price and the possibility of a tough trip from the inside post are clear negatives; after all, he hasn't shown that he's wild about passing horses late, so any kind of mis-step could cost him the race; given the relative lack of sizzling speed in the field he's going to be tough with clear sailing but the draw may just be enough of an obstacle to make him worth trying to beat, for some.

Cost of Freedom
Improved in his 2nd start off the layoff following a disappointing return but he also failed in that last one despite perfect positioning; apologists will explain that he simply moved too soon there but will he be able to withstand Gayego in this rematch, not to mention the other closers? It may be that he's still on the improve as he makes his third start off the layoff, and he does like this strip, but a better last-race prep would be cause for more enthusiasm.

Rallied for the place last time, finishing behind Gayego, but that was a race which set up for the closers, and this colt had the added benefit of a clean, inside trip; he's unlikely to get that same kind of trip here, if for no reason other than there's not an abundance of speed in the field; biggest career figure came 2 back, in his first start off the layoff; but that was at 6 1/2 furlongs and he'd need to run a little faster than that to win this, it seems.

Gayego
Ran down the speeds to win the Ancient Title in his latest, aided in large part by the race flow, which worked to the advantage of the closers; he deserves credit for getting it done, and the Beyer was decent, but whether he gets that same kind of set-up in here remains to be seen; he could also regress in his 2nd start off the layoff, when in fact he'd need to improve in order to win this; not sure he gets enough pace here.

That latest figure was the best of his career, and it was earned at this track and distance; tactical speed helps him to work out a trip on most occasions, and that's a big reason for his success; the main concern is that while his latest puts him in the game, in terms of figures, he's more likely to regress off that Beyer than he is to match it or move forward, as his usual figure is much lighter.

Turns back from routes, and though his lone win came in a sprint his Beyers clearly suggest he's better going longer; he has some speed, but he doesn't seem fast enough to make the lead, and he hasn't shown that he's capable of taking back and making a big run; overall win record doesn't impress, either; may be the rank outsider in here.

Falled strongly to miss by just a half-length behind Fatal Bullet in that last one, another solid effort; he's developed into a consistent closer, and he's one to watch for in the lane, but he's a 3-year-old facing older, and he doesn't figure to get a trip any better than he got in that last one, when he was still unable to run down the pace-setting Fatal Bullet; capable of making an impact late given the right kind of set-up and a clean trip but he could be too late at this distance.

Filly meets the boys, but she's done that before; a slow start didn't help her chances in last year's Turf Sprint, but she ran well enough to get 4th as the lukewarm favorite; she went down as the favorite in her latest but another slow start cost her; the fact that she's had trouble breaking alertly is a concern but if she gets away cleanly she has the talent to contend here, as long as she handles the strip; pedigree offers few clues, as the dam was unraced, and her only other starter raced in Ireland; the barn is 1-for-11 in the US since '05, with Joint Aspiration's win in the 2005 Gaviola Stakes the only one to even hit the board, but this filly, always well regarded at the windows, can't be simply dismissed.

Alfred Nobel (IRE)

First of the pair from O'Brien who accounted for the '01 Juvie with Johannesburg along with a couple of BC Turf wins so they know the drill; form appears to have tailed from the brilliant summer he had although a tough trip last time no doubt partially responsible; a rallying sort in a large field which could mean another adventuresome trip, especially from the one hole as Murtagh is likely to have to go around; third back off the layoff and he earned his diploma in his third start; that and a fat price something to latch onto.

Piscitelli

Eye-opening middle move in the Breeders' Futurity from far back but he was unable to follow through late and he catches the top two out of that ill back; he worked a nice three quarters at the Jersey Shore before that and his latest six furlong move before leaving Keeneland not nearly as good; each of his Beyers have been better than the one before but it appears he will have to improve too much to give the heavy hitters in here a tussle.

Beethoven (IRE)

Appears to have more early foot than his barnmate on the rail so expect we see Moore settle somewhere within stalking distance while saving some ground; probably not considered top shelf across the pond until that win in the Dewhurst win where he turned the tables on Juvie Turf contender Buzzword; it might be prudent to see how that foe as well as Pounded do in kicking the card off as a nice performance by either raises this one's stock; he has danced a lot of dances and now travels and goes through quarantine in three weeks since his last; that and the novelty of the blinker change is behind him.

Noble's Promise

Can't recall all that many summer maiden graduates at Ellis moving up to this level but he proved he belongs with that win in the Breeders' Futurity; nice five furlong work last Sunday helps ease some of the concern about him missing a work last weekend due to what has been called a leg infection; keeps Martinez in the saddle and he has already passed the two-turn and synthetic tests, something not everyone in here has done; he also has enough early speed to be dangerous in a field that may be unusually light in that department.

D' Funnybone

Second choice of the public in here behind Baffert's colt despite never having tried synthetic or two turns; the former the biggest concern given the lack of success East Coast dirt types had in last year's Cup; drew well for the speed he should show despite some likely rating by Prado; one defeat came at he hands of a useful colt to say the least as that rival has accounted for three more stakes at Calder since; his chance of winning this may be as simple as him getting the lead and controlling things but he is likely to get pressure and given surface and distance concerns, 5-2 may be a little too short to take.

Pulsion

Closed the gap on Lucky last time versus when they first met at Hollywood back in the summer; winning margins can be deceiving over the synthetic, however, which brings to mind the phrase 'just win baby'; this one has not done as much of that as the major contenders in here although he does have a tangible asset in the saddle in Smith; another argument is that he may have more room to improve compared to some other jaded sorts present; possible tri or super crasher while every bit he price he was last time.

Vale of York (IRE)

Appeared to have some trouble rating behind the pace two and three back so they let him ramble early last time and he almost held on; hard not to like anything Godolphin is sending out these days as they have been on a roll to say the least; he is another who continues to be getting better with each start although he has not been in as touch as some of his Euro brethren; the key to successfully playing this race may come down to spreading out with some shots under Lucky and catching a bomber in the exacta or trifecta if D'Funny meets the same fate as some East Coasters last year.

Eskendereya

Cross-entered in the Juvie Turf but Pletcher opts for the synthetic instead; nice debut on the grass to pass the turf to synthetic test and even though that last stakes try was rained off, he did win impressively; joins D'Funny in shipping from the East Coast but he is not dirt only as stated previously; he was training better than ever before traveling and he and Castellano obviously get along; stalking sort is also going to be in front of several of the closing types when the real running starts so he may get a jump; interesting player.

Aikenite
 Second of the Fletcher duo and they break side by side; getting to Nobel last time with a late run in his first route and surface try; he too keeps getting better with each start although this will be his sternest test to date; he did not seem to mind the overland route into the stretch in that most recent and expect we see him in a similar position today; his continued display of late energy makes him a rather solid-looking play in the gimmicks at the very least.

Aspire
 Chased some pretty quick early fractions in New York and may be the biggest threat to D'Funny's possible attempt to control the pace; he showed some speed in his last work on Monday by going :22 and change early before slowing down a bit late; he displayed considerable talent at first asking but has not taken that next step up that most in here; believe he makes his presence known early versus later.

 Some circles consider him the strongest of the Euro contingent although at least some of that respect lost on the morning line at 15-1; victory in the Norfolk as Ascot very good considering he got mugged early and he displayed a flash of that tenacity in the late going last time when he made it closer with Awzaan versus the start before; never past six furlongs but his daddy won the Juvie back in '01 so distance concerns eased a bit; possible value play.

William's Kitten
 Well traveled sort makes his sixth different track in as many starts; Maker has three 2-year-old turf types and he says this one is the best equipped for the main; creditable effort over his first synthetic start at Woodbine with some trouble and his finish in that LaD stake was something to see; modest Beyers not a selling point nor is the company he has been keeping but his price is going to be fat and Dominguez in the saddle a tip off that he could be live as could a real nice work Monday; including him in the mix.

 Fate failed to notice his name at the post position draw as he drew the 13; post 12 and 13 are a combined 0-for-28 at this distance the last two years but that is about where the possible negatives end as he has virtually everything else going for him; last year proved nothing trumps a win over the local strip and he has a very professional one to his credit; he is also tactical enough for Gomez to do what he has to minimize the post position situation; he hails from one of the hottest barns going plus he has a pilot that fits him like a glove; another solid work between starts and he gets to play in his own backyard which means less disruption in his routine; his race to win or lose.

Court Vision

Got up on the wire to win the Shadwell Turf Mile-G1 last time out under Albarado in an impressive move after breaking from the outside post; he'll need racing luck in this large field as he comes from the clouds, but like that he's got an inside post for once; note he won the Hollywood Derby-G1 last year as a 3yo over Cowboy Cal after breaking from the 2-hole.

Whatsthescript (IRE)

Closed from far back to be 3rd here in the Oak Tree Mile-G2 on Oct. 10 behind Cowboy Cal in his first start in nearly 3 months; he won the Pasadena here in 2007 on this course and made up 8 lengths in last year's BC Mile to be 3rd behind Goldikova; a bullet 6f move on Nov. 1 at Hollywood on poly says he's primed; contender.

Cowboy Cal

Made every pole a winning one in the Oak Tree Mile-G2 last time out to register his first stakes-win since capturing the Strub-G2 on poly last February; he too worked a bullet on Nov. 1, but on the Santa Anita lawn; note he gets his Strub-winning pilot Velazquez back in the tack today; the one to catch.

Godolphin Racing 3yo won the Celebration Mile-G2 and Craven-G3 this season going a mile and posted a strong 2nd in the Queen Elizabeth II-G1 last time out; he gets Lasix and has the services of Dettori, who was up for his Celebration Mile win; stalker is well-spotted in the 4-hole in the gate and will be a major player once he kicks into high gear in the last quarter-mile; would be no surprise.

Ferneley (IRE)

Second in the Woodbine Mile-G1 last time out after closing from way back, this 5-year-old won the Del Mar Mile-G2 easily in August and collected checks on this turf course last winter in the San Marcos and San Gabriel; he'll see a quick pace up front today and with Bejarano as his pilot, look for him to be one of the stretch threats; exotics bottoms.

Classy 3yo comes into this off runnerup finishes in the Celebration Mile-G2 and Queen Elizabeth II-G2 in England; he has not been worse than 2nd in a short 5-race career and feel his stalking style will put him in position to win this for a trainer who has a 50% win percentage with horses making their 1st North American start.

Showed speed from start to finish as he practically stole the Premio Vittorio di Capua-G1 in Italy last time out; note he chased Goldikova home in France in August, but feel he's in much better form now; a winner of over $3 million with 10 wins under his belt, look for him to prove a major player with his fave rider Ajtebia up and first time Lasix.

Disappointed in the Shadwell Mile-G1 last time out after putting together string of six consecutive wins since switching to turf in his 2nd career start; feel the wide trip last time may have been his undoing as two works since that race prove he's none the worse for wear; gets a challenging post today, but with lots of speed in the lineup, perhaps he can tuck in and save ground in the early going before launching his late kick under regular rider Garcia; due for a rebound today.

Goldikova (IRE)

Defending champ returns in hopes of making it two in a row; she lost her last by a half-length, but feel she should have gotten alot out of that race as she pressed a fast pace and was game in defeat after a month and a half away; she overcame traffic problems to win last year's BC Mile-G1 but she had a much better post than she's been dealt this year; still, there is no doubting her class and feel a good trip puts her in line for another BC Mile win; choice.

Mastercraftsman (IRE) Grp. 3 denouement over the left-hand polytrack at Dundalk nearly perfect; and it's hard to knock a champion 2yo and 4-lime Grp. 1 winner, but the last three wins had to wait until out from under (now-retired) Sea The Stars long shadow; has the key recency. Bullsbay lacks, but must note that in the Diamond, allowance types Augustusthestrong then Via Gallei were easily consumed by forcing a rapid clip; today 3yo cuts back 5/16ths and will likely have to bring that rally from mid-pack in first exposure to much faster opening fractions; O'Brien is one of the greats, but lately lacking in 'fresh-off-the-plane' strikes (0-for-11 '08-'09) in North America; value lies elsewhere.

Furthest Land 46% win machine doesn't look like that kind of runner at first glance; ex-claimer only exited. N4x in April, then first black-type in scratch-depleted off-the-liner in Indiana; G2 KyCup blowout a well-fought duel, a gritty win visually, but sure looks like outlier on paper, even if Dubious Miss flattered with 8.5f Keeneland allowance score in 1:44.45; and Gomez abandons for Midshipman? not knocking Leparoux (4-for-5), or Maker's remarkable 29% 2-off / 30% repeat stats, but Ayo Lands had here with a bounce.

Midshipman He's always been a hidden class kind of horse, which might be kind of an odd thing to say about a Godolphin runner & G1 BC Juv'y winner over this oval, but bear with me - he's beaten something like six prior/subsequent G1 winners, including Mine That Bird, and a handful of G2/G3 players as well; after 11 months off due to a soft tissue injury to the left front in Dubai, the comeback is sharp, although he wasn't favored in N3x live-pack? and did drift late; does that effort validate G1 hopes 'without' a second prep? Hmm... you'd be putting all your eggs into the 1:13 basket; going with another.

Bullsbay The Classic's loss is your gain, and if you question that call, Mastercraftsman is doing the 'exact same thing'; 5yo missing the G1 JCGC due to a freaky foot injury is ok by us, a big race has consistently zapped next-out Classic contenders; the 1:01.58 final drill more than acceptable from a lifelong moderate worker; we're leaning single but if you need the 2-fer with the 'man to get through here sanely, go for it.

Neko Bay A couple of angles will draw contrarians: same connections as Zenyatta, and horse for course status; in fact, lightly-raced 6yo has never won anywhere else; yet he was still N3x-eligible until surprising Frankel's G1 winner Mast Track in prep; that's cause for pause, as is the fact this is his first 2-off since March '08, which was also his introduction to the Pro-Ride as the beaten favorite; fear he's pulled out of comfort zone by potential false pace too early today as in that Santana effort, and passed late; next time.

Mambo Meister

A 'Win and You're In' starter after beating Calder-loving Motovato in a so-so G3; worth noting he drilled even better coming out of that facile effort; but it's a lot to ask to jump to G1 while making first synthetic start — yes, he has the proven turf background, but only exceeds the century Beyer Speed Figure mark infrequently; and might have to revert to deep cover-and-rally style behind these fractions; too much to do too late, but 15-of-22 in-the-money lifetime suggests 4yo is a pricey perfecta candidate.

Pyro

No doubt the wise-guy runner here at enticing odds with Johnny V. taking the Pyro-technic half of split Godolphin stablemates; because make no mistake, 4yo is a thriller when he's on his game; 4-1 was a gift in G1 Forego after an eventual trip was overrun by Gold Trippi in prep; yes, his synthetic form is the big question mark; never been a scintillating worker so you can't hold the last 5f jog against him; still be closing latest, fastest, widest; 2-3-4 candidate.

Mr. Sidney

The live longshot, he bails from the Turf Mile — and why not, in his lone synthetic appearance 13 months ago, he outfinished Bullsby; intriguingly, Kent D. told owner Lee Einsidler he gave this 5yo an 'overly confident' ride that day; G1 Shadwell was a 2-horse race, take his 3rd at face value, and/or a sub-1:40 prep; in any other 2-off G1 spot, you'd have to give a Mott runner a look, wouldn't you?; still, this field has to come back to him — not an impossible scenario, but...; despite hoss trending win-or-bust, inclined to give him just a little nibble here.

Chocolate Candy

Nothing tasty about G1 Goodwood dud; sure he ran to his odds; but had position and should have shared IF you want to elevate him to board status in this spot; which is a bit of a shame since his El Cajon finish was rock-solid; if you want to construct an argument that turning back a furlong for the 3-off after an in-race sub-1:37 mile makes him the sleeper, we won't stop you; but he won't get there in time.

Ready's Echo

Didn't exactly flatter Pyro when coming up short at 3-5 in G3 Kelso; then again, Le Grand Cru has been a different hoss this fall, following up with 1:22.19 G3 Bold Ruler score last weekend at the Big A; 4yo is mostly a one-run one-turn sort who may very well become 'the' top 7f specialist next year for Pletcher; but another lardy break widest today and he's strictly shooting for a smaller award; include underneath.

Red Rocks (IRE)

You gotta go back a ways - but this horse is a BC Turf winner - having taken the 2006 running at CD; he also beat Curlin and Better Talk Now in the Man Of War last year; since that race, however, he has not run better than fourth, although his last was certainly one of his best in quite a while.

Allegre

Quite a step up in class for this one - who has been running at Turf Paradise since last fall; he is an honest horse, but he wasn't even favored in his last three stakes tries in Phoenix; not in this class; pass.

Dar Re Mi (GB)

Dettori lands on this one - and his presence is always important to note; he is among the best in the world riding on the grass; this filly wasn't beaten too far by Conduit when fifth in the Arc; the latter was fourth and looms as the probable favorite here; fillies can more than hold their own against the boys in turf races; contender.

Precious Passion

Runs like a rabbit early - but not late; he is one of those few horses that can go out and set a demanding pace and keep going; he also changes the complexion of races in which he competes because he strings out the field and forces his opponents to have to make a longer run to catch him; looks like the best hope of the Americans.

Spanish Moon

Juddmonte runner has two wins and a second in three starts this year - making nearly $1.5 million; he is a quality horse and being lightly raced, he is not likely to be over the top approaching the BC; never better in his life; second selection.

Monzante

Don't seem him as being good enough; he won the Eddie Read last year, but his form was superior in 2008; he has not run better than a 98 Beyer this year, albeit while competing in races on the synthetic; for the most part his better numbers have come on the grass.

Mine That Bird

Avg. winning Beyer for the Classic is around 117 - of course, you might need to take that with a grain of salt when it comes to synthetic, since the race shape frequently leads to lower figs; Raven's Pass earned a 110 winning last year; here's your Derby winner, it's a case of is the class half-full or half-empty? detractors will say he's just won once this year and his last 2, including his Goodwood 6th here weren't too hot; backers say he did win THE Derby, nearly beat Rachel in the Preakness, could have won the Belmont with a better timed run, needed that Goodwood outing and that he's worked nicely since; but even if he's ready to peak, is that enough to handle some real tough customers?

Colonel John

Can't really understand those who call him a disappointment this year; heck, he was sidelined all year and when he came back at DMR impressively won a turf stakes, as his first turf try no less; then was troubled in the G1 Pacific Classic and didn't run badly at all when 2nd in the G1 Goodwood, beating a number of these; does that mean he's going to win this? well, that's still a bit dicey - he's surely going to have to run better, but as some of his 3yo races show he's capable of doing so.

Summer Bird

The nation's reigning 3yo male; went from maiden winner to Belmont winner in just 3 months, and then took the Travers and JC Gold Cup to boot; before he debuted he started his career training in SoCal and one reason he ended up elsewhere is because he wasn't really thriving on synthetic footing; reports this week are he's working well and could be he's simply a brand new horse these days and the surface won't matter a bit; love his newfound versatility, too; 3yos won this the last 2 years (Raven's Pass, Curlin).

Zenyatta
Unbeaten in 13 tries and gets her first shot at males, and why not in the biggest event?; there have been those criticizing her 'slow' races - well, the nature of synthetic races almost makes high Beyers impossible; check the half mile splits she chased in her last 2 (-48.80, -49.40); these are basically turf style races and unless she can come home the final quarter in say :20.80 she's never going to get a real high Beyer; of course, critics may say her last 2 lower figs are a sign she's not quite as good as she was; however, save for her desperate Hirsch win she's always seemed to have something in reserve; she'll likely need it here but if she really does have it, then it's time for history; no girl has won this.

By now everyone has been smacked over the head with how great Euros did in last year's Classic (ran 1-2) and that's one reason Rip Van Winkle is a hot item; but you have another top-class Euro here - a sharp horse who just won a G1 on turf at this very distance, beating top-class filly Sariska and G1 Irish Derby winner Fame and Glory; remember, too, he was 3rd behind last year's Classic 2-1 finishers Henrythenavigator and Raven's Pass in the G1 St James's Palace so if he's close to them talent-wise doesn't that make him a player here?; darn right it does.

Flashed talent in Maryland late last year, early this year, but it's been the past couple months he's really blossomed; beat Einstein on the square in the G1 Pacific Classic; still, was only 3rd in the G1 Goodwood but this longer trip may help; a big price for those who believe he's got another step or 2 of improvement coming; for all his BC success, Baffert still yet to win this (ran 2nd with Silver Charm, 3rd with Captain Steve).

 Much of the buzz about the Euros is that turf horses seem to relish this footing; well, heck, you have here the horse who will almost surely be named champion turf horse off a stellar season where he won G1s at 1 mile, 1 1/4 miles (twice) and 1 3/8 miles; good move by Clement; he said horse has nothing really left to prove on turf, and he's right, and 12fs 'might be pushign it for him anyway, at least against the bigshot Euros who came here for the turf; he's proven on this track, too, having won the washed-off-the-turf G3 Sir Beaufort Dec. 26; his G2 Strub run was OK, but he's certainly a better horse since - so long as that last-gasp fade in the G1 Turf Classic last time isn't a sign a long, hard year has taken its toll.

 The forgotten warrior; all the talk has been about the Gyos, the Euros and the big mare, but all this old pro does is show up and fire; couldn't quite finish with Richard's Kid in the G1 Pacific Classic but remember he WON the G1 SA Handicap here in March; you know the distance suits and the track suits, and he's been freshened since that Pacific Classic run with this race in mind; versatility also helps give his riders all sorts of options; still, no horse over the age of 5 (6 times) has won this, and we're talking about a grizzled 7yo here.

 Could be a big horse come 2010; heck, he's becoming a big horse right now; have to love the way he came back in NY after the long layoff and no activity while in Dubai; still, there are issues - first time on synthetic, first time going 10fs, first time in a G1 and surely against THIS type of competition; still, he's by A. P. Indy (won this race at GP in '92) and gives every indication he'll keep running; but is this simply a bit too much too soon?; at least a very nice price for those who believe and play him on the come.

Rip Van Winkle (IRE)
The attraction is completely logical; everyone saw the Euros run 1-2 in this race last year and here you have a horse who may well be better than either Raven's Pass and Henrythenavigator; his 3 losses this all came at the hands of Euro superstar Sea the Stars, and this guy was the one who gave Stars his biggest scare when 2nd to him in the G1 Eclipse; they've been pointing for this all along and O'Brien has already come close in this race (Henrythenavigator, Giant's Causeway each ran 2nd) and may have the weapon to go even better this time around; scary.

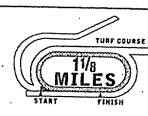

Regal Ransom
Of the 2 Godolphins, Girolamo may turn out to be the better horse in the long run, but as far as prospects for THIS race go this guy may have a better shot; that's because he's got more experience at the higher levels and at a distance; only 8th in the Derby when trying this trip, but he won the G2 UAE Derby (1 1/8ms) and the G2 Super Derby (1 1/8ms); daddy sired Ky Derby/Preakness winner Funny Cide so odds are this guy can get that 10th furlong; speed should have him in it from the start, but what was easily his worst race came in his lone synthetic try (in last year's G1 Norfolk here - ran 8th) and there is other speed to deal with, namely a real fast horse to his immediate right, Godolphin was 2nd with Sakhee, 3rd with Swain in this race.

Quality Road
The early Derby favorite after a couple huge Florida wins including the G1 Florida Derby; alas, foot ailments kept him from making the Derby; the good news, though, is he's come back as good as ever; couldn't handle Summer Bird in the Travers but that was off the layoff and 1 sprint - he got a whole lot closer in the G1 JC Gold Cup; like many others from back east he faces synthetics for the first time but daddy's get don't seem to be hindered by the footing and while this guy has speed he's not speed crazy, so could be he falls into a great stalking trip; Pletcher ran 2nd with Flower Alley in the 2005 Classic behind Saint Liam.

Awesome Gem
Veteran has made a habit of showing up on BC Day; tried the BC Mile last year (ran 6th), finished 3rd in this race the year before (behind Curlin and Hard Spun; beat Derby hero Street Sense); got back on track with a nice win in the G2 Hawthorne Gold Cup in the mud; still, he's just 1 for 12 on synthetic and a few of these beat him in the G1 Pacific Classic; he's a dyed-in-the-wool closer but if you believe a closer is going to power home and win this aren't there a few others you might side with first?
-Michael Hammersly

 10th Oak Tree at SA

Acclamation
 Edged in latest main track start; heads back to his win surface for this; 41-day layoff for a 31%-winning fresh trainer since 2008; has posted 4 of 5 in-the-money grass finishes; sire banked 142K on grass; nearly stole the Del Mar Derby lining up against similar rivals today; leaning elsewhere.

Augustusthestrong
 Makes his 6th start in 60 days following nearly a 1-year layoff; 1-for-1 on grass in Ireland seeking 2nd lifetime victory in a tough spot; is bred for better; he is out of a 777K Grade 1 grass dam; disappointed in a few of his races facing winners; will be siding with others.

Meteore
 Exits a co-best-last-race Beyer speed figure when landing behind 3 of these in the Del Mar Derby; freshened up 9 weeks for this after hanging on the money in latest; the trainer-jockey combo is 4-for-13 at Santa Anita since 2008; graduated over today's turf course; looms a logical contender for win honors.

Battle of Hastings (GB)

Makes his 3rd start of the form cycle which is often any runner's peak performance; terrific 6-for-13 turf record; 26%-winning trainer-jockey combo adds to the appeal; sire banked 600K on turf; he is out of a 4-for-12 grass dam (91K lawn); nosed as the betting favorite in the Del Mar Derby and seeks to avenge that defeat and make amends here; enough arrows point to the pick.

Quindici Man

Winning Pomona Derby on a conventional dirt surface; lone turf start was poor; new rider is the 6th different jockey in as many races which is not a favorable angle; curiously an outsider as he opposes all grass winners; has a nice closing kick but others appeal more.

Gretskey

Exits a new Beyer speed figure Top but landed behind several of these in latest; 5th different rider in as many races for this which is not a favorite angle; may want even longer than 9 furlongs; has posted 5-of-6 in-the-money finishes on grass; ranked a notch below these.

Tamborim

Makes his 3rd start of the form cycle which is often any runner's peak effort; faded in latest synthetic surface start; lacked stamina vs. lesser in his last 9 furlong grass start; goes for a 4-for-18 Santa Anita trainer-jockey combo since 2008; 5-of-6 in-the-money finishes on grass; is out of a 1-for-4 turf dam (29K grass); backing others.
