Her maiden win at ELP Sept. 3 was a beaut; didn't just win easy, she was basically in a trot in the lane so while the Beyer was just OK (80) she more than passed the eye test, and then backed it up with a super win in the G1 Alcibiades at KEE last month over a real nice group; that stamps her a proven commodity at this trip, level and playing 2 turns; cost $300K so you know there are some expectations here; worked well since for a trainer who has vaulted onto centerstage in these big events the last few years and who won this race in 2019 (British Idiom).

Your favorite as she's unbeaten and basically untested in 3 starts; also the only 1 in here who's proven able to Beyer what it normally takes to win this (92); not only has the field's top Beyer (92), she has the field's top 3 Beyers; HOY Gun Runner off to a dynamite start at stud and this filly cost some money ($300K) so somebody saw something they liked; all that being said, there's other speed to deal with and it's her first time around 2 turns, she's facing tougher than she saw in NY and it's her first time shipping out of her area of operations so there are hurdles. -Michael Hammersly

No way to knock a gal who easily won her only 2 starts, 1 of those on this course at this trip; OK, so maybe there is a way - those were sure nice but the Beyers didn't come back all that strong; still, her outings show dash, that she handles the footing and trip just fine and has enough tactical speed to get position and not have to come from the clouds, which could be problematic as in this big bulky field any closer will need all the breaks in terms of pace and traffic; SoCal-based runners have yet to win any of the 13 runnings.

Been knocking heads with some of Europe's elite; in fact, the filly she ran 3rd to in a G1 in England last time out Oct. 8 is the highest rated 2yo filly in Europe so that speaks well for this filly; wasn't far at all behind today's foe Hello You in a G2 in England Sept. 24 and that gal looms 1 of the favorites in here; of course, you're never quite sure how being shipped so far to new surroundings will affect a horse, particularly a young 2yo and Euros have won just 2 of the 13 runnings.

First 2 starts resulted in 2 big wins, but maybe when she ran 3rd beaten just a neck in KEE's G2 Jessamine Oct. 13 she ran the best race of her life as she set the pace from the start, opened up into the lane only to get nailed late; remember, though, this trip is a half-furlong shorter which may play better for her; speed to be in it from the start but she's no need-the-lead type either; Cox won this last year with Aunt Pearl, another gal with speed.

Done little wrong in 3 starts, including a G3 SW sprinting on turf at BEL last time out Oct. 9; worked well since, too; of course it's a new ballgame today as it's first time routing and she's had to ship across the country; that sprint speed at least should have her prominent from the start and she's bred to go this far; trainer Cox won this last year with Aunt Pearl.

Scary Euro import as she comes off a smart G2 win in England and prior to that was competitive with 3 of the best 2yo fillies in some graded stakes (Mise En Scene, Zain Claudette, Sandrine); not only won that G2 easily last time out, she did so geared down, heady stuff; and while it's her first time going a mile usually a Euro can go a bit farther in the U.S. than they can at home due to the style of racing; must deal with turns and shipping halfway around the world but she's got game; still, Euros have won just 2 of the 13 runnings.

Have to like her progress; that's a real nice stamplate who beat her in her debut (and this gal was finishing well and getting to her), then came a move forward to whip maidens on SAR turf and another move forward to whip winners in a turf stakes at LRL; all 3 came going slightly longer but the slight distance cutback shouldn't be a problem; no surprise Brown has a couple contenders (also sends out Haughty) as he's won 5 of the 13 runnings so he knows the type of filly it takes to be successful.

Toss her washed-off-the-turf race at SAR Sept. 2 (in which she really didn't run badly to be 3rd) and you're left with 3 good turf outings including a win in the G2 Ms. Grillo at BEL last time out Oct. 2; the 2 she beat back into 2nd and 3rd are 2 promis ing Chad Brown fillies so she showed quality to foil them; shown speed and versatility to give her rider options and with wins at 6fs and 1 1/16 miles you'd figure this mile trip to suit her just fine.

Looked super blasting rivals in her first 2 starts, both on turf; that said, both were sprints so it's a new ballgame today in terms of distance and an extra turn; the good thing is she's shown versatility as she romped in her debut on the lead but then won a stakes at KD from well off the pace; the Beyer from that KD win was smart, too; while it is a new longer game she's certainly bred to go at least this far and has worked well since.

Rallied from well back to be 2nd (to Cairo Memories) in the Surfer Girl at SA Oct. 3, doing so despite some traffic issues turning for home; so, she's got some quality; her prior 2 starts, both at DMR, were very nice, so you know she likes it here; still, her Beyers have a ways to go to get on terms with the major players here, but we're talking young 2yo fillies so such a move forward is by no means out of reach; lack of speed is a bugaboo, however, as it means she'll need every break in terms of pace and traffic as well as performing to a level she hasn't done yet.

The Beyers from her 2 'wins' (got DQ'd from her debut win) weren't much but she sure passed the eye test as she looked smashing both times; at KEE last time out Oct. 17 she pressed the issue, so she has tactical speed, then blew the race in the lane, win ning geared down; connections have been quoted saying they really wanted to go here but were worried her debut DQ might leave her out, but some defections got her in; Brown surely knows what it takes to win this as he's won 5 of the 13 runnings; but she didn't get much help from the draw.

Did little wrong in France in 4 starts, winning her last 2; that includes a win over boys in a G2 last time out Oct. 9; those 2 wins came on soft turf, something she won't get today, though at least her first 2 outings, including a game 2nd vs. boys, came on firm ground so she doesn't seem just a non-firm specialist; showed some tactical speed in those last 2 wins at Chantilly so that's encouraging as it may mean she doesn't have to come from way out of it; obviously talented, though Euros have won just 2 of the 13 runnings and she's mired way outside.

English raider looks more than a little scary; after all, she won her first 2 starts including a G3, and was then a good 4th in a very tough G1 last time out in England Oct. 8, and the winner of that race (Inspiral) is the top-rated 2yo filly in Europe a nd early favorite for the G1,000 Guineas next spring; yet this gal wasn't that far behind her with some other nice gals in her wake; had some trouble that day, too, or she might have finished even closer; Euros have won just 2 of the 13 runnings but th is gal is among the best they've ever sent, though the post is a big hurdle.

While daddy is best known for his dirt prowess he won a G1 on turf so it's no shock his offspring handle the stuff; you could have won a lot of money if you told people at the top of the lane in the G2 Jessamine at KEE Oct. 13 that she was going to win a s she was still miles out of it; however, she closed relentlessly while wide and got up in the final strides; proven a this trip and showed she has the necessary late oomph; even so, she'll need all the breaks in terms of pace and traffic if she's again way back early in this bulky field trying to run down some high-quality gals. -Michael Hammersly
