A CLOSER LOOK*12TH SARATOGA*Romansh

Improving colt overcame a tough trip to get second money before seeing his number put up last month in the restricted Curlin, a heat in which his coupled mate crossed the wire first; they paid 750K for him a couple of summers back so clearly they have high hopes for him and a top rider does get aboard; while there is likely some upside he'll catch a pretty tout and accomplished bunch in his graded stakes debut; barn and pilot won this heat's 2006 renewal with the colt's sire Bernardini while Castellano also won in 2011 with Stay Thirsty and 2010 with Afleet Express.

Orb

He became the field's lone 10 panel dirt winner when he ran away from the G1 Kentucky Derby field this spring but his subsequent flat efforts as the chalk in each of his next Triple Crown starts have raised questions; patient barn says he couldn't be working much better in his preparation for this but note that he spots each of his main foes a big recent prep effort and his late running style is not always well received over this racetrack; while it would certainly be a nice story to see him bounce back for an outfit that has won this race 3 times - Coronado's Quest in 1998, Rhythm in 1990 and Easy Goer in 1989 - he may find himself with a lot of work to do turning for home; consider.

Verrazano

Pletcher colt's lone blemish came over a wet track in the Kentucky Derby in which he was no threat to Orb at today's 10 furlong trip; he looked loaded for bearing on the turn in Monmouth's G1 Haskell last month and didn't disappoint when he was let loose, earning a huge number that no one here has approached in the process; barn won this race with Stay Thirsty in 2011 and teamed up with this pilot to take the 2005 renewal with Flower Alley; inside draw says he could either go, if asked, or more likely sit behind Moreno and sit the trip; there may be questions about his ability to get the added ground in top company, but in his current form he's the one they'll have to beat.

Golden Soul

Helped light up the exotics with his late running effort behind Orb in the Kentucky Derby, but his 2 subse-quent spins were tough to swallow; maybe he's better second off the freshening and when on his game he likes the distance but right now he's got to prove that it wasn't just the wet track that moved him up on the first Saturday in May.

Will Take Charge

Picked a good time to run his career best number in the local G2 Jim Dandy prep for this, but he just wasn't good enough to get to today's foe Palace Malice who held a tactical advantage that day; he's not the most consistent sort, but he did prove that he's capable of running with these las time and the added panel could help his kick; barn won this race twice - Thunder Gulch in 1995 and Corporat Report in 1991; price should be right and maybe the last out hood removal is the equipment change he's needed all along.

Moreno

He's an example of a runner who just took off with the addition of shades when shipped East after taking the collar from 9 cracks to begin his career in California; his game is speed so expect to see his pilot pushing him to the top from the bell and he was a little weary late in the 9 panel Jim Dandy when finishing behind a couple of these foes last time; he's clearly a much improved runner and will likely take them as far as he can go, but don't know that he's going to be able to handle the added ground as well as proven G1 types over a fair racetrack.
