Off-pace type recently has finished behind a few of the fillies she'll face again here; Cargo and Arches of Gold beat her last month and Knight Prospector defeated her at the beach Aug. 15; Slewpy filly's last 2 wins have come at this distance, but she'd be a surprise.

If she had run any faster at Hollywood, you would have heard sonic booms; exceptionally quick filly has the 3 highest Beyers showing in PPs for this heat; was outrun for a quarter on main track for a change, but Davy Be Good had to go :21; Beyers are declining and this is neither her favorite track nor distance; because Desormaux is known for avoiding suicidal pace duels, curious to see where she and Arches of Gold are placed early; despite negatives a major contender.

Stevens and those who bet on this filly will probably hope to see a fast, pressured pace; if that happens, she's one of the obvious beneficiaries; stalker is improving and has best last-race Beyer; only entrant who won her last start; repeat possibility.

A CLOSER LOOK

Sprint

Music Merci

Likes the track, won 7f Malibu Stakes over it 4 years ago; hard to take a 7-year-old in a top-class sprint, because they're not supposed to get faster as they get older and his off-the-pace style puts him at an immediate disadvantage, especially from rail vs. 13 others; beat Skerry a half-length, which puts him in a class with 20 others in SoCal; needs every break, including suicidal speed duel and sudden, random weirdness; ran vs. Is It True, Easy Goer in Juvenile 5 years ago.

Gilded Time

The other 2YO champion in the race, Fly So Free, won the B.C. Juvenile by a wider margin yet hasn't become Mr. Supersprinter; 2 intangible factors in his favor are being a 3-year-old and a Florida-bred, but he's never been on the lead after a half-mile, has raced only against 2YOS and didn't break alertly in his career debut, something to consider as he returns from very long layoff; odds should be better outside California; can't fault anyone for taking a shot with wild card that worked 1:10 4/5 Monday; trainer Vienna okay off layoffs (15 percent winners, 40 percent in the money last 5 years); post 2 could be intimidating unless he can get right out there and lay 2nd or 3rd, but nobody really knows yet if he's that fast.

Birdonthewire

Normally, at Santa Anita going 6f, betting on a towering closer that wears front wraps and makes sweeping outside moves on Belmont's wide turns would be shakier than a jackhammer operator on his 3rd cup an hour into poetry night at the espresso house; but he was the leader after 6 furlongs in each of his last 3 starts, twice when way clear, twice in 1:08 and change; but after Vosburgh, trainer said "this was our Breeders' Cup," so what's today?; though he's ooooh, very scary, he's won his 3 in a row and is the kind of horse - whose style isn't quite suited to the scenario (how wide will he need to go in a 14-horse field, how many chances are there to get blocked?) - that bandwagon jumpers might kick themselves for betting as favorite or second-choice; but if he can get clear, he has monstrous middle-move to reach striking distance when they turn for home and he's no hanger; Lasix on.

Dema not the greatest credentials, never on lead after 6f in 1:08 and change, most recent win in ungraded stakes vs. Mountain Cat (yawn); got 8 and 9 lbs. from elders that sandwiched him in Fall H'weight, his best race; SoCal-based ownership takes a shot with 3YO whose overall form is about as exciting as listening to Kathy Lee tell Cody stories, but you never know, you know?

A 31-1 field entry beaten 9 lengths in this race last year; has anyone squeezed from Eddie D. or his agent a concrete reason for abandoning last year's winner, Thirty Slews, and choosing this 7-year-old who hadn't won this year until the Ancient Title 3 weeks ago, a race with very little impact on subsequent Sprint payoffs after nine years?; unless Thirty Slews is scratched, bettors must ambush Eddie D. on his way to the paddock, and demand some light be shed; honest gelding closed from 3 to 8 lengths in each of last 6 starts, but the style is usually at a disadvantage on SoCal tracks; beaten by non-graded SoCal fillies and other come-from-behind colts; of the 2 he just beat, Music Mercci was coming from a pair of claiming wins, and Bahatur was in his first stakes.

One of many closers; usually within striking distance in a sprint by the eighth pole, but needs a speed duel, like the :43 4/5 he got between 3 others at Hollywood 7/3, where he was still 3 lengths behind after 6 furlongs; a lone speed in :43 and change usually isn't enough for most of these closers to overcome, unless the track is playing against early speed.

Surprise Offer

Beat elders Monde Bleu, Lochsong in the spring, not bad for a 3-year-old and Lochsong just won the Prix l'Abbaye (race that spawned Dayjur, Sheikh Albadou) by 6 lengths; hard to figure how he'll handle switch from soft-turf sprinting in Europe; not thrilled about him (or any of the European sprinters, for that matter), but high odds will probably warrant 2nd look; used to be a colt, now a gelding.

Meafara

Great post; 3 lengths clear of the show horse and 12 others (including '91 winner) last year; looks like they played around with her this year, taking off the pace in sprints and trying 2-turn races; Safely Kept lost the DeFrancis the year she won the Sprint; trainer change to Jones, an Oak Tree king who won right away after receiving Best Pal; an advantage to using her is that, unless they're crazy, she'll be sent, sent, sent, staying clear of mess behind her; like last year, there isn't much to run with her; only Thirty Slews was close to her last year, and he hasn't won since; with 3 wins "handily," "easily" and "under wraps" this year, doesn't figure sore or sour; when Smile and Safely Kept made it back to this race after finishing 2nd the previous year, they won; huge threat.

Sayyedati

If not already suspect by the turf-to-dirt question mark, she hasn't raced at 6f in more than a year and her last 3 efforts were from near the back of the pack in longer races; among factors to respect are 4 Group I wins, previous successes of 3YO fillies in the Sprint, only 121 lbs. and trainer Brittain's big Ky. Derby run from Bold Arrangement in '86.

and quality 3rd-quarter kick - he can have a great trip; the 111 and 112 Beyer figures, earned giving 8 and 10 pounds to the runner-ups, are better than most; Lasix on; but Perret, where are you?

Monde Bleu

Low winning percentage is a turn-off; a weird case can be made for him off one race - 6/4/92 - when he beat Paris House and Boylton Lad, the same 2 horses Sheikh Albadou beat in Aug. the previous year, 3 races prior to shipping here to win the Sprint; 8-1 odds in l'Abbaye, didn't win last 3 favored appearances; main track a question mark; Europeans took turns beating each other in '93 and what does "5 across track 100 yards out" 5/13 say?; Eddery won on Sheikh in '91.

Thirty Slews

Would shatter the Sprint-winner profile (with just 3 races, no wins this year) except for one thing - he won the race last year and it hasn't come up significantly stronger; training as fast as he did before last year's race and Baffert, not known for blowing smoke, is still confident about his chances despite the last-out stinker; if any trainer can win this race off such spotty seasonal form, this is the dude; the mystery is Eddie D. and agent abandoning this monster for Cardmania; that's one shaky circumstance and another is Black Jack Road, a 9-year-old, who was only a length behind him in Crosby 8/1, then came back to be off the board in Cal Cup Sprint won by ex-claimer; shaky post, no?

A CLOSER LOOK

Juvenile Fillies

Sardula
 Everything she's supposed to be, except unbeaten; question in terms of style: speed has done awful in this race; scary aspect comes if she battles early with Meadow Rendezvous while Heavenly Prize and Phone Chatter lie in wait; Eddie D. quote: "She's the best juvenile I've ridden," he the rider of A.P. Indy; ability to sizzle home last time after such acceleration from the 6-furlong marker to the mile showed what's under the hood, and she's already received an enthusiastic thumbs-up from the Beyer boys; lost nothing in Oak Leaf (not a productive prep, by the way, with just one winner, Pleasant Stage, whereas the Frizette has produced winners Open Mind, Go for Wand and Meadow Star), though some vulnerability was shown, and this won't be easy; a step to the next level, or just another California speed pipedream?

Stellar Cat
 Consistent Beyers, but they're consistently a ways behind the major players here; before getting too down on her, though, notice she's on the upswing and only she and Phone Chatter have won 2-turning and at this trip; Lukas once dominated this race, and while at first he appears to be on the outside looking in here, he has a filly with a number of positives and a big price assured who could have you and him giving that big, toothy grin if the big 3 aren't up to snuff; worth a bit of your time.

Meadow Rendezvous
 Not exactly bred to excel at this trip, and running style makes her prospects worse; fast early, and maybe her presence will give Sardula a target if that one is content to stalk, but NO leader after a quarter mile has finished 1st or 2nd in this race; no filly has gone from a sprint to win a 1 1/16-mile Juvenile Fillies; sending seems her best chance, but after 2 mile works where she was the slowest each time, the prospect of her hanging around, with Sardula in close pursuit, seems quite bleak.

Heavenly Prize
 Before working yourself into a dither over her, here's cause to be a bit skeptical; got an absolute dream trip in the Frizette, sitting behind a hot pace of :22 4/5, :45 1/5 (the boys 3 races later in the Champagne set splits of :23 1/5, :46 3/5); also, rallied outside on a day when the outside was a highway, the inside quicksand; favorite and major foe Strategic Maneuver was found to be sick after the race, and the 3rd filly, Footing, while a nice filly, remains an allowance winner only; asked to ship and win in only her 3rd career start, and no one has won either this or the Juvenile with less than 3 career races under their belt; on the plus side, it's Shug, he's willing to ship, her Frizette time was 2/5ths faster than Dehere's Champagne (though her final quarter was :25 2/5 after a quick 6 furlongs in 1:10 while Dehere stormed home in :23 4/5 after a tepid 6 furlongs in 1:12) and her style fits the winning profile to a tee; some well-deserved chest-beating if you single her and she wins, but evidence suggests singling her is a lightrope act in the wind.

Tricky Code
 Able to run with Sardula for about 7 furlongs before that one and Phone Chatter sprinted away; apparently Jones isn't awestruck, though, as he puts her back in against them; why not?; last race should help enormously, a nice filly in her own right, has speed, not speed crazy; many reasons to believe she can take another step forward here, though in the end that may just mean a 4-length loss instead of an 8-length one.

Phone Chatter
 Mandella, who also trained Phone Trick, wisely noted Phone Trick won his races at 7 furlongs easier than he did his 6-furlong races; took advantage of a dream trip, stayed close to Sardula, then kept her hemmed on the wood and with her size intimidation may have been a factor; check the splits these 2 fillies set - they sized from the 6-furlong mark to the mile in :24 3/5, and were still able to get the final 16th in :6 1/5; West's top males the next day went the same split in :26, with their final 16th in :7; great barn, should get another good trip, and every winner and runner-up of this race has used the stalk or rally style; no arguments here for anyone who believes she's the one.

Coup de Genie
 It's a different game, different surface, different running style, different world here, which all add up to a major chore for her; yeah, Boutin brought Arazi over for success, but he certainly appears the exception and not the rule, as 18 other Europeans have tried the juvenile races without so much as a sniff; on the plus side, Timeform chaps gave her a nice 112 rating; she's kin to major milers Machiavellian, Exit to Nowhere and Hydro Calido, but the hurdles here are many and substantial.

Rhapsodic
 Oddly enough, while the observers out West were raving about Sardula, Mayberry always retorted that this filly should not be ignored; one-run style has played remarkably well in this race, but Beyers put her a ways behind the major players, so she'll need the race of her life; if you still believe in her, your price is killed by the Sardula coupling, though it's nice to have that kind of safety net.

An inside look at the legendary Claiborne Farm and modern Thoroughbred breeding . . . a remarkable new book from Henry Holt and Co., New York.

BRED TO RUN (The Making of a Thoroughbred)
 by Mike Helm

author of A BREED APART, Hardbound, indexed, 241 pages.
 A marvelous reference source and exceptional gift.

" . . . will fill in a significant gap for those horseplayers who have thus far ignored the workings of the breeding industry," says Mark Cramer in the prestigious Cramer-Olmsted Report (Oct. issue). "Helm misses nothing in the total picture of bringing a horse up to racing age. . . An understanding of the breeding industry can only help us in our handicapping, especially with maidens and two-year-olds."

16 vital chapters, illustrated, include: the Origins of the Breed; In the Breeding Shed; With the Grooms; Coming to Term (Working With Foaling Mares); Birth; In the Nursery; Raising a Good Horse; Touring; Client Relations and Information Control; Money Management (On a Horse Farm).

Jack Werk, editor of Owner/Breeder says, ". . . Every once in a while a book comes along that's special. Mike Helm's Bred to Run is such a book. It should be required reading to those new and old to the Thoroughbred industry."

Illustrations include Bold Ruler; Seattle Slew; Secretariat; Native Dancer; Raise a Native; Mr. Prospector; Alydar; Ribot; Graustark; Damascus; Private Account.

A CLOSER LOOK

Sky Beauty

Really that good, or are the 3yo fillies back East just that bad?; it's probably a combination of the 2, but a look at those Beyers make the comparisons to Ruffian and Go for Wand kind of ridiculous; don't misunderstand - she's a quality filly, keeps on winning, done all that's been asked of her; but what would have happened in the Alabama if Fortunate Faith hadn't been hipchecked on the rail at the eighth pole?; beat up on the same fillies - Silky Feather was 3rd to her 3 times; only time she shipped out of her backyard she lost, admittedly after a layoff, but this isn't the Big Apple, and these aren't those big sweeping turns; encouraged Jerkens ships her, because in all the BC races he's only had one entrant, and that was when the BC was in his backyard at Aqueduct; Beyers say she may simply not be fast enough; that being said, get the eggs and tomatoes ready if she wins and this has touted you off a filly many think is great and one of the most logical singletons of the day.

Dispute

Critics will smugly note Sky Beauty beat her easily in 2 of their 3 meetings; good handicappers will note that this filly is on the upswing Beyerwise, while Sky Beauty seems to have stalled some; already beaten elders (Sky Beauty has not), though she did it with a dream run rallying on the outside when outside was king; only losses since big Oaks win came when Sky Beauty was at the top of her game in the Mother Goose, in CCA Oaks which is too long for her, on turf and in the mud; may now be better than Sky Beauty, but that may still only make her the 2nd best 3yo filly in this race; looks very good.

Paseana

Throw out the mud race, and her string of Beyers matches up fairly well with Wildcat; defending champ was awesome last year from post 14 and is still a major factor; while visually less imposing this year with only one run-off win (last year she usually won with room to spare) her Beyers indicate she really hasn't lost a step at all; Spinster set her up beautifully last year; should get a great trip, but Wildcat, Dispute and Sky Beauty are considerably more opposition than Versailles Treaty, Magical Maiden and co. last year; detractors will note she didn't want to work Tuesday, see "hard drive" the pace, from off the pace; nobody better than Neil at pointing them for this day - 4 wins from 12 starts, also 2 2nds; Beyers say she's faster than these; hey, you Eclipse voters, if she wins don't just blindly follow the East and mark down Sky Beauty for top 3yo filly as this one will have won graded stakes on both surfaces, won on more than 2 racetracks, and whipped elders twice, once on racing's biggest day, none of which Sky Beauty will have accomplished.

Re Toss

Blew the doors off Paseana at Hollypark, and if you throw out the poor Chula Vista effort, this mare brings a string of Beyers which gives her a decent look here; been getting away with considerably less weight, however, only has 3 wins in her last 21 starts; others in here have as much of a late kick and there's nothing on paper to warrant more consideration, so she's difficult to consider more than a stab.

Supah Gem

Mare who beat her on turf is a pretty nice one from the Mandella barn, but Mandella didn't enter her here knowing the competition; yet to Beyer over 100; some decent races in Florida, but a decent race and 90-ish Beyer won't get you much here except a diminishing view of numerous hindquarters moving away from you; big number, little hope.

Ski Paradise

In mile grass races here during the last 3 meets, rail horse has won at 18 percent rate; smallish, gray filly has lowest Timeform rating (126) of European invaders for this race; keeps ending up in shadow of winner, as she lost 3 straight Group 1s in France by a head; if there was balloting for the best trainer in the world, Fabre would get numerous votes; filly loves the distance and carries the least weight; slight improvement would get the job done; chance.

Fourstars Allstar

Has ability to stalk pace, which fits winning profile for this course and history of this race; full bro to $1.5 million earner Fourstardave won Irish 2000 Guineas at a mile in '91; trailed all the way in DC Int'l on yielding course, which he doesn't care for; that 109 Beyer he earned in Aug. at Saratoga is among the best non-Lure figs in this field; posts 1 and 2 have combined to yield 3 of last 4 Mile winners; was 9th at 66-1 in last year's Mile; longshot again.

1 Baratheon (Ire)

B. c. 3 (Mar) Sire: Sadler's Wells (Northern Dancer) Dam: Brocade (Habitat) Br: Gerald W Leigh (Ire) Tr: Cuman Luca M (-)

Performance and record statistics for Baratheon (Ire), including lifetime records and race outcomes.

Baratheon Powerful, sometimes nervous colt is part of 3-horse entry owned by Sheikh Mohammed; Irish 2000 Guineas victory and QEII Stakes 2nd were each on yielding turf...

4 Flawlessly

Own: Harbor View Farm MCCARRON C J (71 10 10 6 14)

Racing results for Flawlessly including dates, race names, distances, and jockeys.

B. m. 5 Sire: Affirmed (Exclusive Native) Dam: La Confiance (Nijinsky II) Br: Harbor View Farm (Ky) Tr: Whittingham Charles (20 4 3 1 20)

Performance and record statistics for Flawlessly, including lifetime records and race outcomes.

Flawlessly Mare's name is awfully close to the truth; she's won 7 Grade 1 grass races against females since Dec. '91; has tactical speed and some huge closing fractions... training well and Bald Eagle has a tremendous record of getting horses to peak for major races...

1a Catrail

Own: Sheikh Mohammed ASMUSSEN C B (-)

Racing results for Catrail including dates, race names, distances, and jockeys.

B. c. 3 (Jan) Sire: Storm Cat (Storm Bird) Dam: Tough as Nails (Majestic Light) Br: Calumet Farm (Ky) Tr: Gosden John H M (-)

Performance and record statistics for Catrail, including lifetime records and race outcomes.

Catrail If Wolfhound (an entry-mate in this race) hadn't defeated him at Haydock, he'd have 5 straight wins; Timeform chaps give him 128 rating and note reports of leg problems; good-looking animal was 10-1 when 7-2 Wolfhound beat him at Haydock...

5 Paradise Creek

Own: Firestone Bertram R DAY P (2 0 2 0 .00)

Racing results for Paradise Creek including dates, race names, distances, and jockeys.

Dk. b or br. c. 4 Sire: Irish River-Fr (Riverman) Dam: North Of Eden (Northfields) Br: Firestone Mr-Mrs B R (Va) Tr: Mott William I (-)

Performance and record statistics for Paradise Creek, including lifetime records and race outcomes.

Paradise Creek Completed exacta under Lure in last year's Mile (from negative post 11) and in last month's Kelso; trainer analysts realize Mott horses have been known to outrun their speed figures on Cup Day; seems to have recovered from ankle surgery following Early Times (missed about 30 days); there's a Muscle Beach look to him on the track and he's fared well with Lasix; Day tops jockey earnings list for BC races; with a better post this year, he's at least an exotics question - and not out of the question in the win pool.

Mott's other runner (Paradise Creek) looks better; hasn't won a graded race this year and was never a factor in the Kelso; however, trainer has super record with low-figure, high-odds horses on Cup Day; it's worth noting the Mile exacta has included a 25-1 shot or higher in 7 of 9 years.

Won the Group 1 QEII and Sussex Stakes in England, but past winners of those races invariably have been duds in the Mile; was briefly behind 3 horses in QEII, then made winning move; sire won Mile at 35-1 here in '86; colt reportedly is difficult to ride and some question whether he can adapt to the tight turns here; on the plus side, he has a 130 Timeform rating and a better draw than some of the other big guns; somewhat tempting.

Without question SoCal's dominant grass trainer, Frankel probably won't get the national recognition he deserves until he ends zero-for-16 Cup drought; today may be the day; Desormeaux is this circuit's best rider; headstrong filly packed a wallop in the lane at Hollywood; had a pus pocket cut from her foot last month; won 4 straight before troubled 2nd last time; "She's so talented it's unbelievable," trainer contends; price figures to be okay for those who agree.

Final-fraction handicappers will give him serious consideration; his last quarter of about :22 2/5 in the Col. Koester was the best closing fraction by an Anita winner at the distance during the last 4 meets; also flew home in U.S. debut (last 5/16ths in about :28 1/5 at Hollywood); faded in Arlington Million and Beyers are mediocre; however, '92 Group 1 winner has looked terrific in works and trainer has bookend Eclipse Awards; Eddie D's skill with closers and familiarity with course provide some encouragement; despite poor post, he's not a bad exotics price play.

No horse with fewer than 3 pre-Mile starts for the year has won it; has tactical speed; DC Int'l victory came on yielding turf; Beyers have increased in each of his last 3 starts, but they are nothing special by Grade 1 standards; class-oriented bettors will note he's the only entrant who has a U.S. Grade 1 victory over males this year; still leaning toward others.

Prior to the draw, it would have been hard to argue with those who were going to single him in the Pick-7 or key him in the last 7 Miles, only 2 of 36 starters from post 9 and out have been in the money; Smith will have some important decisions to make in the 279 yards from start to the first turn; Danzig colt won Mile last year - and this year's version is better and more versatile; has the best 6 (!!!) Beyer figures showing in the PPs for this field; in 8 grass races of 9 furlongs or less, he has 7 wins; betting decision depends on how much you think post 12 and relatively short odds offset his obvious talent; deserves every superlative that will come his way if he repeats.

Wolfhound

Has best Timeform rating (131) of the Europeans, but that's been a jinx lately; in last 4 Miles, the top-rated Timeform runner has finished 5th or worse; all 9 previous winners of this event were first or 2nd in their most recent pre-Mile grass start - this guy was 7th; Nureyev colt has ability and 2 pretty good entymates; those who moan about his post aren't crying wolf; however, historians will recall Gosden captured '84 Mile with Royal Heroine - who broke from outside post in field of 10 at Hollywood.

A CLOSER LOOK

Juvenile

Creston

Shown more speed with blinkers last time, but didn't see Flying Sensation until it was too late, so the shades come off; half to multiple stakes winners Compelling Sound and Shywing is bred to like the distance and improve with age; barn has had a big year; somewhat fits the pattern of past Juvenile winners on the West Coast in that he showed speed and exits a race at the distance; still, Beyers are a tad low and the way Flying Sensation thumped him, it's hard to see him in the winner's circle.

Ferrara

If not for the fact he has yet to win a stakes we'd really think this guy had a shot based on how prior West Coast Juveniles were won; has speed, which was key in those races, exits the Norfolk, which produced the 3 Left Coast winners, and his sire won this race here in 1986; good connections, but that way they crawled home in the Norfolk may have you tossing out the entire lot; some plusses, but not enough to get excited about.

Shepherd's Field

Stalker-closer is improving with each start and the winner of the Norfolk has won 2 of the 3 West Coast Juveniles; never has earned a Beyer in the 90s, which Dehere seems to earn in his sleep; like the fact he won here at the distance, bred to enjoy 2 turns; however, he certainly was not flying late (came home in around :32 2/5 for the last 5/16ths) and it will take a huge step forward for this guy to pose for pictures and doubt he's going to move forward that much; minor award may be his ceiling.

Flying Sensation

Ran huge in the Cal Cup at this distance earning a good Beyer; seems to be improving with each start and finally is getting the distance he is bred to love; like the way he came home much faster than Norfolk cast did (he came home in around :30 2/5 for the last 5/16ths) and getting Pincay who has won this race 3 times certainly doesn't hurt; chased hot pace last time and should get around this time around; the size of the field could work against him (traffic woes), but since Steve Wood took over as track superintendent in the Dec. of 1990, this track has become much kinder to closers at this distance than it was when the Breeders' Cup was held here in '86; seems to be improving and improving horses are dangerous; another good effort may be coming and he has a good shot to hit the board, at the very least as owning the best-last-race Beyer would suggest.

Hot Number

Just broke maiden in his 2nd start with Lasix and his lone try against restricted stakes types was not much; came home fine last time in :36, but the Beyers say this guy has little chance and they rarely lie; works are aren't much and connections have little experience in the big races; would be a huge surprise.

Winning Pact

While his Dosage says this distance should be no problem, note that his dam, who dropped hot freshman sire Half a Year, has gotten mostly sprinter-milers, and Jones keeps talking about how this guy looks like a quarter horse; look for him to gun early and try and hold on, but the way he faded last time (Jones said he sulked since he didn't get things his way) certainly doesn't bode way for this guy; crawled home last out and doubt blinkers off will help much; meets many of the requirements the past 3 West Coast Juvenile winners: ran in the Norfolk showing speed, a graded winner and Lasix user; the one to catch but someone probably will.

Blumin Affair

Comes off an impressive allowance win over the track, but that was a weak field and he's never been past 6 furlongs and the post certainly doesn't help; makes the quickest turnaround in the cast, but his lack of graded stakes competition and route experience are 2 major knocks; would be a surprise despite the Hall of Fame connections.

Madame Head was quoted as saying to the effect that erstwhile Europeans Kotashaan and Luazur didn't scare her and, the way her filly has been coming around lately, she has good reason to feel that way; this gal was impressive leveling the boys in the Champion Stakes when racing with her tongue tied for the first time and that tour de force bolstered her Timeform rating from 123 to 129; has been more effective when the going was on the softer side and has never attempted 12 furlongs, although she has the breeding to commend her at the distance.

Mike Smith was widely criticized for purportedly moving this gelding too soon in his American debut, but Star of Cozzene was awesome that day and this fellow had typically stayed in touch in most of his European races; the skein of victories brought over to the States were all in sub-Group 1 races and the Timeform gents have rated this member of the Fabre crew at a less-than-celestial 124.

Since Fraise parlayed his Turf Classic appearance into a Turf victory last year, the former race has become the only final prep to have produced more than one winner of this race (Manila was the first at Santa Anita in '86); this year's Classic winner continued the now time-honored European tradition of plundering America's top grass prizes in the fall, in this case at the expense of the much-vaunted Star of Cozzene; and the Fabre trainee got his last quarter in a crisp :23 flat; most recently received a Timeform rating of 128, 7 below top-rated Opera House, but has held his own against the latter in Group 1 company; has displayed best form over firmer courses and has been highly consistent since visored late last year; no doubt will offer wagering value and merits respect.

 Frequently has attempted to dictate the proceedings on the front end and had everything going his way when still falling prey late to Apple Tree in the Turf Classic; last year's Turf appearance over more familiar Gotham grounds was disastrous and no telling how this guy will take to the El Camino Real course; the foal against Luazar's fortunes?

 This colt's Eastern forays have been wholly regrettable experiences and his last on a soft course in the Man o' War was no exception; returns to a Lasix-permissive jurisdiction, has prospered off short respites before, and has been working in splendid fashion for latest comeback; broke a number of the punters' hearts when noted out by archival Kotashaan in the San Juan Capistrano, but deserves much praise for the difficult feat of following up the former grueling test with an impressive score in the Hollywood Turf Inv.; 12 furlongs is this fellow's favorite trip and he has the tactical speed so useful over this course; has some positive elements in corner.

Kotashaan

Dick Mandella deserves all the plaudits on the job he has done in bringing this gelding back from an injury last year into a top-class runner who has maintained his form plateau since almost New Year's Day; of course, all honors have come since the addition of Lasix, he never could beat Star of Cozzene, and all of his subsequent victories came at the expense of mostly the same horses in mostly small fields; wasn't considered in the top rungs of society when competing on the other side of the Big Pond, but certainly has obtained a home-court advantage over his old compatriots.

Intrepidity

The 5th member of the Fabre contingent is also perhaps the most intriguing; had a much-troubled Arc trip when forced to race wide while still making up ground smartly that earned her both an improved Timeform rating of 126 to 128 and a rare assessment that perhaps this gal's form might have been better than originally thought; other than her Arc performance and a below-form appearance in the Irish Oaks, this gal has been perfect on every kind of going at every distance attempted; lands Stevens for American debut and helps make the entry look formidable.

The Reviews Are in . . .

Sports Form's GAMING TODAY - October 16, 1993
Computer Analysis of Beyer Speed Ratings in Sprints ($29.95, plastic spiralbound, 26 pages)
 "When the Daily Racing Form incorporated the Beyer speed figures into its past performances, it drew mixed reviews, especially from those who had been exposed to them via the "ill-fated" Racing Times. Now, however, most horseplayers agree that they outperform the old speed ratings in most instances. But like anything else in racing, we've all had times that make us swear by them and times that make us swear at them.
 Sport Stat of Las Vegas has put together a very impressive complete analysis of the BSRs in Sprints. Good things come in small packages and this book is just that. Let's say someone asks you the following questions:
 "(1) Playing favorites will cut the track take roughly in half. Right? No, it's wrong. (2) Prefer a horse which has had a race over the track. Right? No, again wrong. (3) Never play horses moving back from a route to a sprint. Right? Wrong again. (4) It is best to avoid the lowest level races at each track because the BSRs will not hold up. Right? No, wrong again.
 "Which Beyer figures under what circumstances offer the best value? What about dirt sprinters whose last race was on the turf? What about layoffs? How do the top BSRs perform? How often does one of them win? If you box the top four in a round robin, how often will you cash?
 "A lot of work went into this analysis and Sport Stat has more on tap for the future. (A route version is due later this year.)
 "I eagerly await the next venture and so will you once you've gone through this one.
 "If you've ever looked at the guy sitting next to you in a race book after the race is over and said something like . . . 'He'd have been my top figure if I didn't throw him out because of . . . ' then you have to get this book on sprints now."

Best Pal

Cal-bred kingpin is working great, loves this track, and has no problem with the distance; the problem he could have comes from Bertrando, and the possibility that the speedster will be cruising along on a lonely lead and not 'come back' through the final eighth; Hollypark Gold Cup win was superb, Pacific Classic 3rd not as bad as it seems due to race shape and jock's perhaps moving him too soon; Cal Cup Classic win inconclusive when eyeing declining Beyers as 'Pal was on cruise control while drubbing much easier; obviously can handle the impost, but can he handle Bertrando?; Jones has publicly stated that Best Pal won't be the one to chase him early, thus we know he'll be coming late, or maybe too late.

Kissin Kris

One of the look-alike 3-year-olds from the east, and not thrilled at all about his chances despite the crisp local morning endeavors; style really doesn't fit this course, and he often doesn't get there with his late rallies; if you must prefer a closer, doesn't Best Pal look better?; how about that Super Derby near miss?; well, the Super Derby finish saw 4 on the line, usually a signal of a weak race, and the pace was fast early, pedestrian late; kudos for the Haskell score over his classmates, and that figures as his high point for the year.

Peteski

If the Super Derby was an indicator of true class, this guy failed the test; colt took command after fast half, kept going the best he could to narrowly miss through slow (:26 1/5) last quarter; the string of Canadian wins looks nice, but the foes were suspect and this one doesn't have any edge at all coming into unknown (for him) surroundings; tracking style in his favor, but still prefer others in the 2-3 slots of the tri.

Missionary Ridge

No Grade 1 wins this year for this guy, who has only tested this main track once, without success; seemingly the weakest part of the Frankel trio, but capable from off the pace, and able to pick up the pieces as he did when 2nd in the Pacific Classic; Beyerwise, a few notches behind Bertrando and Best Pal, but on his best day could get the show slot, maybe more; but he's coupled in the wagering with Bertrando and Marquetry, thus do we look for a possible 4th-place finisher to cap the tri payoff?

Bertrando

After the Woodward. Bobby Frankel said, "That's the way he's supposed to be ridden, not playing around with some 40-1 shot like he did in the Iselin."; this horse is fast, very fast, and don't look for Stevens to guzzle him through a .48 half mile; his 1 1/4 losses in the Strub and Big Cap were sporting .47-and- change half-miles; his Woodward score was monstrous, and proved his ability to get the distance once again, although it's no secret he's a mudlark; the Pacific Classic win was gangbusters, and don't buy at all the speed-bias theory; this guy was best....period; concerned about the lay-off?; Black Tie Affair won the 1991 edition off a 47-day layoff, and Bertrando comes back with 48 days off; colt loves this track, been working great, and we can't go against, although consider Best Pal a threat.

Wallenda

Here's the Super Derby winner, and doubt many were overly impressed; another with uninspiring late, laterunning style, and another an unknown over this main track; don't like the looks of the front wraps being worn, either; will note this one is on the improve, but he's nothing more than a cookie-cutter 3-year-old having a good sophomore campaign with more than a few negatives staring him in the face for this race; none of the 3-year-olds in here will remind any of A.P. Indy, Sunday Silence, Easy Goer or Unbridled.

Devil His Due

Is the Devil due for a biggie?; more inclined to think this Devil has seen his best days; declining Beyers, chased Bertrando through the Woodward slop while never a threat; lacked all punch in the J C Gold Cup, but might have been hurt by supposed anti-inside bias; at least 4-year-old has some big wins in his recent past, but those who believe in the 'what have you done for me lately' adage are looking for others to round out the tri; figures mid-pack early, mid-pack late, unless he comes back to life in a big way.

Colonial Affair

Not sure what to make of narrow loss in J C Gold Cup, as last quarter was fast, Beyer fig earned decent; but those early fractions were crawl city, and thus lent the real race to the final eighth where late bursts (with the bias?) were key; another of the 3-year-old contingent hard to separate via prior accomplishments, and with a chance here to slide into the tri; but same negatives apply regarding his chances for the win; one thing for sure, he'll see real racehorse fractions, which figure to dull his kick considerably.

Diazo

The J C Gold Cup effort was too bad to believe; maybe he didn't want to be on the lead, or perhaps was done in by anti-inside bias?; maybe he can't go 1 1/4?; Western bias notwithstanding, this guy was extremely impressive in the Relaunch, workmanlike and just as impressive in the Pegasus; he's undefeated locally, probably tons better from off the pace, and with Laffit to guide him along; a big price in this affair, and worth plenty of consideration in the minor slots of the tri; prefer him over the other 3-year-olds.

Timeform rates him at 128, calls him a high-class performer on his best day, and finds him effective from 9 furlongs to 1 1/2 miles over firm or soft going; well, he's maintacking in unknown surroundings to him this time around, and he's just too inconsistent to take seriously; like Ezzoud, he's faced and beaten some overseas heavy hitters, but he's failed on occasion as well; sure hates heavy going; biggest knock?; the BC Classic has been unkind to foreigners as 11 have tried this affair with only Ibn Bey (2nd in 1990) and Jolypha (3rd in 1992) having any success; enough said.

Kudos for the nose win in the J C Gold Cup and many angles/notes applied to Colonial Affair fit this one as well; does seem to have speed to track a faster pace, willing to toss the debacle in the Woodward slop; an edge with local jock Chris M. at the helm?; possibly, but his style gives him a longer look than many of his classmates, and that looksee still puts him in only a battle for the minor or show slot of the tri; respect the barn, horse, jock, horse's record, but runner just looks on par with many in here, not in the same league (at least at this track, in this situation) as Bertrando and Best Pal; but we could be wrong.....good luck, regardless.

Slerp

Been pointing for this race all along; tough dude always gives his best; can fire off a layoff, throwout the mud race in New York and he looks okay; pace should play to his strength; exotics factor, as usual.

Tough to believe he could outrun those speedsters early Aug. 21 but he did it, then held on like gangbusters; maybe this is what he wants to do; nice string of drills; another to think about in a race full of tough dudes.

Premier Angel

Can't knock winning habit, and ability to be within 3 1/4 lengths of Apella Sept. 4 bodes well for him; speedy, but not a need the lead type; consistent Beyers, but someone in here will still probably Beyer over 100, leaving him on the outside looking in if he runs his usual race.

Come on nicely, shown some versatility, though may have been a tad too close to the pace last time, as laterunners Cardmania and Music Mercii gobbled him up late; have to think this is a good trip for him, tactical speed to be where he should be; guess what? another contender.

The Wicked North

Overcrowded bandwagon for Wash. D.C. Int. was last seen being rolled into the Potomac, the celebration being lit by the bonfire of all those losing tickets; turf condition was probably his undoing; now he's a question with the quick turnaround; best beats these easily, but can he be at his best after a trip to D.C., a rugged race, then another trip back here to meet some strong opponents?; shaky.

Throw out the turf race last Oct. and note if this guy had been able to keep going this year his Beyers would make him look awfully appealing for the Classic; last race was probably his best yet, leaving the likes of eventual stakes type Region in his wake; proved that day he could fire fresh; once a little boy who had much made of him, it's apparent now he's a man, and those who take a firm stand against him do so precariously.

Met Mile win was huge, but why the long layoff afterward when he appeared at the top of his game?; should be legged up after decent Vosburgh return, good drills since; Laffit back aboard, and he's had the most success with him; one-turn mile stretch means he should love this trip here; probably the one to fear most if you play someone else.
